

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

PART I.

THE ECONOMIC CONDITION OF ORGANIZED LABOR.

THE ECONOMIC CONDITION OF ORGANIZED LABOR.

The statistics of labor for the year ended September 30, 1901, as embodied in this report, are restricted to the organized wage-workers of the state. They do not therefore cover all, or even a majority of the wage-earners; but they do represent a minority that is large in point of numbers (275,000 working people) and representative of nearly all the manufacturing and mechanical industries. Organized labor includes, in the first instance, the more highly skilled workmen, and in the second instance, the wage-earners in cities rather than in villages; hence, for both reasons and aside from the probability that members of labor organizations secure more regular employment and slightly higher rates of wages than non-unionists following the same trades, it may be predicated that the average earnings of members of labor organizations are higher than the average earnings of all workmen. It would therefore be incorrect to quote the conditions of organized labor as actually representative of all wage-earners; but, on the other hand, the fluctuations from year to year in the amount of employment and earnings of trade unionists do really reflect actual changes throughout the entire body of workingmen.

These reports have been collected quarterly from the trade unions since the beginning of 1897 and, as appears in the blank form reprinted in Appendix I, cover the subjects of number of members, hours of labor, rates of wages, and number of days worked and amount of money earned by each member during the quarter. The information required for such reports is furnished to the secretary of each trade union or labor organization by the individual members thereof on blanks supplied by the Bureau. It cannot be maintained that the use of the individual blanks is universal. Nevertheless, the secretary of the average small union inevitably possesses fairly accurate knowledge of the amount of employment and earnings of each member of the organization. In the case of the larger unions, such knowledge is more likely to be in the nature of an estimate, unless the union levies some of its dues in proportion to the wages of members and therefore requires from each of its members a weekly report of their earnings; this is the practice, for example, among the printers' unions.

I. Number and Membership of Labor Organizations.

[Summary tables A-D in Appendix III; detailed tables I and II in Appendix IV.]

Before discussing the earnings of organized working people, it is necessary to know something about the composition, strength and growth of such organizations. Such growth can be traced from the year 1894, when the Bureau first gathered comprehensive statistics on the subject; at that time the strength of organized labor had probably suffered something of a decline on account of the industrial depression that began in 1893 and lasted until 1897. It is interesting to study the development of labor organizations in this state since then. In 1894 the number of labor unions that reported to the Bureau was 860; in 1901, it had increased to 1,871, which is a gain of 117 per cent. In the same period the membership has increased from 157,197 to 276,141, or by 76 per cent, thus:

1901. September 30	1,871	66	261,523	14,618	276,141	19,742+

While there is manifest a constant increase in the number of organizations, it is only since 1898 that the growth has become conspicuously rapid. Between 1894 and 1898 the number of unions had increased by only 227, while in the three years since 1898 the increase has been 784. The aggregate membership was smaller in 1898 than in 1894, but in the past three years it has increased at the rate of about 35,000 a year; thus in the official year ended September 30, 1899, the increase in membership was 38,000; in 1900, 36,000 and in 1901, 31,000. The rate of growth has therefore declined somewhat in 1901 as compared with the two years just preceding.

The following table, summarized from Table D of Appendix III, exhibits the membership by industries in each year since 1894:

In nearly all the industries there has been a constant growth of organization since 1894, so that with one or two exceptions the maximum membership is in 1901. The most striking advance has been made in the metal-working trades, which have increased their total membership from 9,900 in 1894 to 35,600 in 1901, and thereby progressed from fifth to third place in the rank of organized industries. On the other hand, the tobacco trades lost ground in 1901, and the transportation trades suffered a noticeable decline in 1898, as a result of the temporary disbandment of New York City longshoremen's unions, while the clothing trades, notwithstanding a large increase in the past year, have not attained the strength, in the matter of numbers, that they displayed in 1895. The total for 1895 was exceptional and, amid the numerous fluctuations in the strength of unionism in the clothing business, has not been approached in any other year. The difficulties attending the organization of trades whose members are more or less isolated home-workers are so great that it is doubtful if the large gains made in the past year, as shown in the following table, can be permanently maintained:

Tables 3 and 4 together show the quarterly changes in the number and membership of New York unions in the year under consideration, the last column in each table revealing the gain in the entire year. While the largest number of new organizations is to be credited to the construction industry, the largest number of new members is found in the clothing and textile trades. The several industries and trades, as detailed in Table I of Appendix IV, may now be passed in review.

I. Construction Work.—The four subdivisions of this group of trades are stone working, cement making, building and paving trades, and building and street labor. The number of unions in the stone-working trades has declined from 41 in September 1900, to 35 in September, 1901, but the membership has increased from 5,076 to 6,258. The leading trades in this subdivision are the freestone cutters, with 1,980 members; granite cutters, 773; stone cutters, 907. Over 80 per cent of the membership is in New York City, which is to be credited with the entire increase in the year. The cement workers are scattered through 8 towns along the Hudson and have been losing ground, with respect to number of members, which in September stood at 710. The building and paving trades include all the skilled workmen and comprise about one-fourth (63,482) of the aggregate membership of all labor organizations in the State (276,141). The leading trade, carpenters and joiners, has 132 unions (118 in 1900) and 15,540 members (14,944 in 1900); then follow the painters and decorators with 68 unions and 10,082 members (in 1900, 48 and 9,783 respectively); brick layers and masons with 63 unions and 8,868 members (in 1900, 58 and 8,441) besides the stone masons; plumbers and gas fitters, 40 unions with 5,052 members (in 1900, 35 and 5,931); plasterers, 11 and 3,985 (in 1900, 7 and 3,000); housesmiths and architectural iron workers, 4 unions and 3,450 members, which is a loss of nearly 200; roofers and sheet metal workers, 26 unions and 2,887 members, nearly stationary; electrical workers, 33 unions and 2,174 members, an increase of 209. The building and street laborers have 43 unions (two less than in 1900) and a membership of 14,951, a gain of 1,551.

II. Clothing and Textile Industries.—There are five subdivisions of this group: (1) garments, (2) hats, caps and furs, (3) boots, shoes, gloves, etc., (4) shirts, shirt waists and laundry, (5) textiles. The garment makers have 74 unions, a gain of 13, and a membership of 34,010, a gain of nearly 13,000, which is the increase credited to the entire group. This gain was all in New York City and occurred in the summer of 1901. The larger unions are those of the cloak makers, who have 8 organizations and a membership of 7,700 (a loss of 900); the tailors, who have 26 unions and a membership of 7,600, an increase of 5,300; the waist and wrapper makers, who have 3 unions and 5,900 members, a gain of 4,600; pants makers, who have 3 unions and 3,500 members, a gain of 1,000; clothing cutters, who have 7 unions and 2,200 members, a gain of 700. There are 13 unions in the hat, cap and fur trades (an increase of 1) with a membership of 1,936 (an increase of 350, mainly in New York City). The boot, shoe and glove trades have 21 unions (an increase of 5) with 2,599 members (a gain of 500, almost entirely among the glove makers of Gloversville and Johnstown). The shirt, collar and laundry workers have 20 unions (an increase of 5) with 1,681 members (a gain of 200). The textile workers have 22 unions (an increase of 21) and 1,657 members (a loss of 700, largely in Cohoes).

III. Metals, Machinery and Shipbuilding.—In this group there was an increase of 31 unions and 4,291 members. The machinists gained 7 unions and 900 members; blacksmiths, 200; blast-furnace men, 200; boiler makers, 300; horseshoers, 200; machinists' helpers, 200; allied metal mechanics, a new organization, 400; while the foundry and machine shop laborers declined from 1,500 to 100 and the iron molders from 5,350 to 5,150, a loss of 200. The growth of smaller organizations counterbalanced these losses so that the iron and steel trades altogether gained 1,500 members. In the subdivision of "Metals other than iron and steel" there was a decline of 400 (largely among New York City chandelier makers) which was partly made up by a new union of wire frame makers with 200 members. The stationary engineers gained 5 unions and 1,600 members (from 4,800 to 6,400); the marine engineers, 300; the stationary firemen, 300; and the marine firemen, 600, making a total increase of 6 unions and 2,800 members in the subdivision of "Engineers and firemen". In the subdivision of shipbuilding there was an increase of 1 union and 200 members (ship carpenters and calkers).

IV. Transportation.—In this group the increase in number of organizations was 35, of members, 3,517, distributed among the subdivisions thus: Railroads, 11 unions and 3,100 members;* street railways, 4 unions and 500 members; coach drivers and livery employees, loss of 1 union and 100 members; seamen and pilots, gain of 1,350 members; freight handlers, truckmen, etc., gain of 21 unions with a loss of 1,300 members. Of the individual trades the largest are the locomotive firemen, with 39 unions each year and a present membership of 4,050, an increase of 300; the street railway employees, 8 unions and 4,033 members, a gain of 500; longshoremen, with 18 unions (a gain of 5) and 4,000 members (a loss of 200); trainmen, 36 unions (loss of 1) and 3,844 members (an increase of 300); locomotive engineers, 38 unions and 3,489 members (an increase of 130); seamen, 1 union with 2,900 members (an increase of 1,300); car builders and repairers, 6 unions (an increase of 3) with 2,084 members (a gain of 1,600, chiefly in Buffalo); conductors, 22 unions (loss of 1 union) and 1,808 members (loss of 32); switchmen, 3 unions and 747 members (new); grain shovelers, 2 unions and 951 members (decline of 200); truckmen and team drivers, 29 unions (increase of 19) and 1,672 members (increase of 400).

V. Typographical Trades.—These trades gained 8 unions and 869 members, about equally divided between New York City and the interior. The compositors have 42 unions (gain of 7) and 7,911 members (increase of 300); the pressmen's assistants and press feeders, 5 unions (loss of 1) and 2,109 members (decline of 26); lithographers, 3 unions and 1,037 members (increase of 50); photo-engravers, 6 (gain of 2) with 939 members (increase of 250); pressmen, 10 unions and 1,948 members (increase of 60).

VI. Tobacco Trades.—This group gained 2 unions but lost 2,139 members. The 2 unions of cigarette makers in New York City gained 100 members; the tobacco workers gained 1 new union (Utica) and 40 members; the 5 unions of cigar packers with 514 members lost only 100; but the cigar makers, who comprise most of the organized workers in the tobacco trade (46 unions and 8,531 members) lost 2,200 (700 male and 1,500 female members, in New York City).

VII. Food and Liquors.—While there was an increase of 17 unions in this group, the gain in membership was only 21. The brewery employees (including also a few workers in the mineral water business) have 58 unions (a gain of 9) and 4,851 members (a gain of nearly 400). The bakers and confectioners with 33 unions (a gain of 3) have 2,185 members, which is a decline of 400 (confined to New York City); the butchers with 22 unions (gain of 3) have 1,637 members, a loss of 250 (Buffalo); the cooks with 5 unions (gain of 2) have 722 members, an increase of 280 (new unions in Buffalo).

VIII. Theaters and Music.—This group of trades gained 6 unions and 1,990 members. The principal trades organized are the actors and the musicians; the actors have 3 unions and 3,202 members (increase of 50), the musicians 23 unions (increase of 7) and 7,147 members (increase of 1,900, of which 1,400 is in New York City). Stage mechanics with 8 unions have 1,001 members (increase of 18).

IX. Wood Working and Furniture.—This group of trades has been virtually stationary, having gained only 3 unions and 84 members. The leading trades are piano and organ workers (8 unions and 1,805 members), machine wood working (15 unions and 1,628 members), cabinet makers (3 unions and 1,384 members), coopers (16 unions and 819 members), upholsterers (7 unions and 969 members) and wood carvers (6 unions and 665 members).

X. Restaurants and Retail Trade.—The trades under this heading have gained 27 unions and 1,501 members. The bartenders with 31 unions (increase of 9) have 2,213 members, a gain of over 700, and the clerks and salesmen with 27 unions (gain of 5) have 2,381 members (increase of 500); the ice handlers with 4 unions (increase of 2) have 322 members (gain of 130); milk peddlers, who are not all wage workers, but are recognized as laboring men by the trades councils, have 9 unions (increase of 5) and 810 members (gain of 220); the newsboys and bootblacks' organizations have disappeared from all the cities but Albany, where it has a membership of 24 (total loss of 325 in the trade).

XI. Public Employment.—In this class there are 23 additional organizations and 994 new members. Letter carriers have 60 unions (increase of 25) and 3,272 members (a gain of 350); dock builders with 1 union in New York City have 1,800 members (gain of 1,100); drivers and hostlers, with 3 unions have 447 members (loss of 100); post office clerks with 6 unions (decline of 1, Albany) have 956 members (a loss of 800, principally in New York City); street cleaners with 3 unions have 1,205 members (an increase of 600).

XII. Miscellaneous.—An increase of 1,655 members in this group is to be principally attributed to the organization of new trades. The glass workers with 15 organizations and 694 members have lost 6 unions and 340 members, but the barbers on the other hand with 33 unions and 1,788 members have gained 400. The paper makers, whose organization began in 1900, have made rapid progress and now have 11 unions (5 in 1900) and 510 members (185 in 1900); the tanners and curriers have also increased and now with 3 unions have 335 members as compared with 27 in 1900 (the gain being largely due to a new union in Gloversville-Johnstown); the organizations composed of workers at different trades (mixed employment) have 13 unions (gain of 1) and 1,949 members, an increase of 700.

The growth of 34 leading trades (comprising all that had over 2,000 members in 1901) is shown in the following table:

The only explanation of this table that is needed relates to the blanks in the 1894 column. Such blank spaces signify that the particular trade was not then separately organized, although members thereof may have belonged to unions in closely allied trades; thus the pressmen's assistants in 1894 were members of pressmen's and press feeders' unions.

GEOGRAPHICAL DISTRIBUTION.

Table II of Appendix IV exhibits the total number and membership of labor unions in each city and town of the state, in their alphabetical order. The number of towns containing one or more labor organizations is 146 as compared with 135 in 1900, 111 in 1899 and 87 in 1898. The following table shows the strength of trades unionism in the principal industrial centers of New York, every town being represented which according to Table II had at least 1,000 members of labor organizations in any one quarter:

MEMBERSHIP OF LABOR ORGANIZATIONS IN PRINCIPAL CITIES AND TOWNS.

The fluctuations in the growth of organization in the several cities are frequently remarkable. New York, with an increase of only 13 unions, has gained 20,000 (nearly all in the last quarter, and as previously noted, principally in clothing trades unions). Buffalo, which for two years led all interior cities in rapidity of growth, reached its limit, at least for the time being, in June and lost ground in the last quarter. Rochester (increase of 1,700) Albany (800) and Troy (600) made substantial gains, while Syracuse and Utica declined, the one relatively so that Albany passed it in the race, the second in actual membership. Schenectady (300) and Elmira (500) increased at normal rates, while Newburgh (100) and Binghamton (18) were nearly stationary. Large gains are noticeable in Niagara Falls (850), Jamestown (700), Oswego (600) and Gloversville (400), while Lockport, Watertown, Cohoes and Hornellsville have all lost in membership if not in unions. Auburn, Yonkers, Port Jervis and Amsterdam have remained very nearly stationary.

It is always interesting to compare the metropolitan half of the state's population with the other half; since the incorporation of "Greater New York" the figures have been as follows:

Sept. 30—	ORGANIZATIONS.			MEMBERSHIP.
	New York City.	All other towns.	Total.	New York City.	Other places.	The State.
1898	440	647	1,087	125,429	45,638	171,067
1899	477	843	1,320	141,687	67,333	209,020
1900	502	1,138	1,635	154,504	90,877	245,381
1901	515	1,356	1,871	174,022	102,119	276,141

It thus appears that until this year the metropolitan growth has been much smaller than that outside. Between 1898 and 1901 membership in the metropolis increased 40 per cent and in the remainder of the state 124 per cent. The result of the development of trade unionism in the smaller industrial centers of the state has been to reduce New York City's proportion of the aggregate, thus:

	PERCENTAGE OF TOTAL MEMBERSHIP AT THE END OF SEPTEMBER BELONGING TO ORGANIZATIONS IN—				POPULATION.
	1898.	1899.	1900.	1901.	1900.

Total—seven cities	89.4	87.3	85.3	83.7	59.1

Of the seven cities only Albany and Troy have maintained their proportion throughout the four years. The seven cities in the aggregate now contain 83.7 per cent of all the unionists in the state as compared with 89.4 per cent in 1898.

ORGANIZED WORKING WOMEN.

Table 1 above shows that, with the exception of two or three quarters, the female unionists of New York have steadily increased in number since 1897, and that their progress has been especially rapid in 1901. Thus the percentage of women in the total membership of labor organizations at the end of September was 3.4 in 1897, 4.4 in 1898, 4.0 in 1899, 4.8 in 1900 and 5.3 in 1901. While the percentage of women may continue to increase somewhat, it can never become very large for the reason that the industries which in this state lend themselves to organization but rarely employ women; thus the building trades unions, which alone contain one-third of all the unionists in New York, have not a single female member. In fact the only organizations in which a considerable number of women are found are those in the clothing, textile, tobacco and printing trades as shown in the following table:

In the garment-making industry 25.4 per cent of the members are women as compared with 23.4 per cent in 1900 and 17.1 per cent in 1899. In the manufacture of hats, caps and furs, 10.1 per cent are women as compared with 5.8 per cent in 1900 and 5.2 per cent in 1899. In boot, shoe and glove making 21.4 per cent are women as compared with 7.8 and 3.1 per cent in the preceding years; but in the shirt-making and laundry trades the percentage of women has fallen from 8.4 in 1899 and 18.8 in 1900 to 7.8 in 1901. In textiles the percentage for the three years specified has been 44.1, 33.1 and 37.5; in printing 3.7, 4.4 and 5.0; in tobacco trades, 21.0, 31.6 and 24.4; in theatrical and musical trades 4.5, 4.9 and 4.4; in retail trade, 5.4, 7.0 and 7.4 per cent. A few women appear in this year in the metal working trades; they are wireframe makers and might equally well be classed among the millinery trades.

II. Unemployment

Of the 272,600 trade unionists who reported to the Bureau the duration of their employment in the third quarter of 1901, 8,341 or 3.1 per cent were idle throughout the three months embraced in that quarter and many more were idle part of the quarter. In fact, less than two-thirds of all the members of labor unions worked anywhere near full time (not less than 70 days, there being 77 working days in the quarter). To measure the extent and ascertain the causes of all this lost time is one of the problems of statistics.

The simplest measurement of unemployment is to count the unemployed on any particular day and compare the result with the number employed. If the number of idle workmen remained fairly constant throughout the year, this simple method would answer our purpose fairly well; but that number by no means remains the same week after week. There are more people employed in summer than in winter, when inclement weather prevents many outdoor operations, particularly in the building industry. Many lines of work, notably the clothing trades, go by seasons, work being rushed at certain periods and almost general idleness prevailing at certain other periods. Hence the necessity of counting the idle at different periods in the year, in order to obtain an average that takes into account the periodical fluctuations. Such a count ought to be made at least as often as once a month, as will be done hereafter by the Bureau in connection with a certain number of representative unions; but up to this time, the Bureau's information has been derived from quarterly reports furnished by secretaries of the various unions.

These reports are exceedingly valuable from many points of view. A minor defect, frequently pointed out in the Bureau's reports, is the fact that union secretaries are sometimes unable to furnish information concerning members who, while idle at their own trade, may be employed in other occupations. A maltster, for example, may be reported as idle during the inactive season, while as a matter of fact he may have outside employment. Hence these figures of unemployment somewhat exaggerate the actual amount of idleness. It is believed, however, the number thus employed is relatively small and that, in any event, it varies little from one year to another. For comparative purposes it may therefore be excluded.

The following table discloses the number and proportion of unemployed members of labor organizations at the end of each quarter and also the number and proportion idle during the entire quarter:

* An estimate based on reports from 183 representative unions, comprising more than one-third of the aggregate membership.

The most obvious inference from the preceding table is that the amount and proportion of enforced idleness are very much smaller in summer (second and third quarters, April 1 to September 30) than in the winter quarters (first and fourth.) As might be expected, the inclemencies of the weather cause much more idleness in December and March than in June and September, thus:

	44,836	42,244	100	100	31,460	18,617	100	100

The weather conditions accounted for 46 and 15.5 per cent of all the idleness at the end of March, 1900 and 1901, respectively, and only 0.5 and 2.2 per cent at the end of September in the same years. This cause really affects but two groups of trades, the building trades and the lake trades (grain handlers, marine engineers and firemen).

Trade disputes, and personal causes, like sickness, accident and old age, account for a good deal of the reported idleness; but the principal cause in every instance is inability to find employment. It is, then, lack of work on the part of working-men able and willing to work that creates the problem of the unemployed.

In order to compare 1901 with previous years, it will be convenient to obtain a yearly average. In this case the simple arithmetical average of the percentages will be found nearly as accurate as the geometrical average of the basic figures and is therefore to be preferred. The results are as follows:

AVERAGE PROPORTION OF TRADE UNIONISTS IDLE—

	At any one time.	All the time.
	Per cent.	Per cent.
1897.....	21.8	12.2
1898.....	19.7	7.7
1899.....	13.3	5.9
1900.....	19.0	7.3
1901.....	12.4 [13.4]	5.6 [4.8]

The averages for 1901 are for three quarters, as the fourth quarter is not included in the present official year; if the fourth quarter were included the estimated average for 1901 would be those stated by the bracketed figures. In either case 1901 appears to be a more favorable year for employment than any one of the four preceding years, with the possible exception of 1899.

These results are confirmed by more complicated calculations based on the number of days worked by all members of labor organizations. Thus in the third quarter of 1901, 8,341 members were continuously idle and 258,807 members were employed one or more days. The number of days worked by each member being reported, it is a matter of simple multiplication to find the aggregate number of days worked by all members. For the third quarter of 1901 that aggregate was 18,125,904 days. But if the 267,148 members had been fully employed during the quarter they would have accomplished 20,570,396 days' work. They therefore lost 2,444,492 days or 11.9 per cent of full time. This is as accurate a statement of the actual amount of idleness in this period as it is possible to obtain by any practicable method. In the first quarter of the year the amount of idleness was of course larger; the average for the two quarters was 17.2 per cent. Following this method of calculation for the preceding years, we reach the following results:

TABLE 12.

PERCENTAGE OF TIME LOST BY UNION MEMBERS IN THE FIRST AND THIRD QUARTERS, 1897-1901.

	Aggregate number of days reckoned at full time. (77 days a quarter).	Actual number of days' work performed.	Percent- age of time lost.
1897	23,062,424	16,082,495	30.3
1898	26,460,357	20,112,923	24.0
1899	28,660,093	23,570,733	18.0
1900	35,399,441	28,081,188	20.5
1901	38,713,213	32,003,677	17.2

It appears therefore that the proportion of members continuously idle varies in different years in about the same degree as the aggregate proportion of time lost, which depends on such complex calculations that it cannot be so freely used. We may therefore return to the consideration of Table 12.

The low percentage of unemployment in 1899 was due to exceptionally favorable conditions that existed in the summer of that year, especially in the building and clothing trades, which comprise nearly one-half of all the union members in the state and therefore exercise a decisive influence upon the totals. Thus during the second and third quarters of 1899 only .5 per cent and .3 per cent, respectively, of the members of clothing trades organizations were unemployed as compared with 4.5 per cent and 5.7 per cent in the corresponding quarters of 1901 (and 15.6 and 10.6 per cent in 1900). But taking the two quarters together, the building trades exhibited more activity in 1901 than in 1899, and hence the very favorable figures for the aggregate of all trades in the present year. The percentages of unemployment in each are given in Table 14.

The causes of unemployment at the end of March and September are stated in the tables and have already been summarized in Table 11. The following table (15) gives the causes of the idleness in each industry, or group of trades, at the end of September; in most industries "no work" or "slack trade" explains most of the idleness, but in the clothing trades strikes and lock-outs figure prominently, in the tobacco trades sickness, and in public employment all the idleness is due to sickness, accident or old age.

UNEMPLOYMENT, BY LOCALITIES.

Tables IV and VI show the number and percentage of union-ists idle in the various towns and cities of the State. In some of the smaller places, with only one or two organizations, the per-centages were often very large—sometimes rising, for example, to 100 per cent. It will be found upon investigation, however, that such figures are chiefly due to the seasonal cessation from work of artisans in the building trades. The following table shows the degree of unemployment in the seven principal cities:

In the winter quarters the smaller cities have more idleness than the metropolis, but less in the summer. The explanation is the distribution of industries—the dock workers in Buffalo, the clothing trades in New York City, etc.

III. Duration of Employment.

[Summary tables N-O in Appendix III, detailed table VIII in Appendix IV.]

As observed in one of the preceding paragraphs under “Unemployment,” all trade unionists who are employed even for a single day are counted among those at work. Hence, the tables which show the duration of employment indicate a large variation in the number of days worked each quarter. The following table shows for the aggregate membership this variation in the amount of employment, which is indicated for groups of trades in the summary tables N-O and for the individual trades in the detailed Table VIII.

As a quarter contains 13 weeks, the number of working days, excluding Sundays and holidays, is usually 77. About 68 per cent of the men make full-time or overtime.

Of the 245,220 men employed in the third quarter of 1901, 27,964 or 11.4 per cent worked 90 days or over. These are nearly all engaged in transport services,—railroad and street railway employees, cab drivers, seamen, post-office clerks, etc., who work seven days in the week. Hence the highest average of days worked is found in the transportation group (IV), namely, 79. This is one of the reasons also why the average for women is nearly always smaller than that for men; practically none of the female unionists having to work seven days a week.

For the sake of comparing the amount of employment in different periods, the average number of days worked in each quarter is used. This average is obtained by finding the total number of days worked by all the members of each union, adding these aggregates and dividing the total sum by the number of members employed. Thus it is found that the 258,807 members of labor unions reported at work in the third quarter of 1901 altogether accomplished 18,125,904 days' work within that quarter, or an average of 70 days each. The comparison with preceding quarters is as follows:

1900	66	67	65	65
1901	67	70	63	66

The number of days worked in the second and fourth quarters of 1900 and 1901 was not ascertained.

As regards the organized working women, it appears that 1901 did not afford especially good opportunities of employment; the average number of days worked, while somewhat above that in 1898, was just equal to the number in 1897 and below the number in 1899 and 1900—particularly 1899. The female members of labor organizations are comparatively few in number and are confined for the most part to the clothing and tobacco trades, in both of which employment fluctuates to an unusual degree.

Confining attention to the men, we observe that the duration of employment has on the whole been increasing since 1897. In the first quarter the best showing is made in 1901, but for the third quarter 1901 is not quite equal to 1899. The explanation of the fluctuations depends somewhat upon the figures for the several industries given below:

With only two exceptions (wood working, public employment), all the groups exhibit a higher average number of days worked in the third quarter of 1901 than in 1900; but with respect to 1899 the superiority is not so marked, as one-half the groups have the higher average in 1899 and one-half in 1901. The most noticeable difference is in the clothing and textile trades, the members of which averaged 68 days of employment in July, August and September, 1899, as compared with 56 days in those months of 1901. On the other hand, the members of organizations in the transport trades averaged 79 days in the present quarter and only 76 in 1899; in theatrical and musical trades 72 days this year and 60 in 1899; restaurant and retail trade, 79 and 72 respectively, etc.

The smaller cities and towns, as usual, furnished more days of work, per member, than the metropolis.

IV. Earnings.

[Summary tables P-S, detailed tables IX-XI.]

DAILY WAGES.

In Table X of Appendix IV will be found the rates of wages and average daily earnings in each labor organization in the state. As compared with last year the wage rates herein reported show many advances and few reductions. About one-fifth of the members of New York labor unions had their wages changed this year and 95 per cent of the changes were advances. The average weekly gain of the 47,585 unionists who received an increase was $1.97, while the average weekly loss of 2,668 persons who suffered a decline in wages was $2.67. The net weekly gain to the 50,253 wageworkers was $1.73.

More than four-fifths of all the changes in wages were reported by the members of unions in the building and clothing trades, as appears in the following summary table:

The net weekly increases amount in the aggregate to $36,807, distributed among 50,253 working people, and of this amount $75,900 is to be credited to the two groups of trades just specified (building and clothing). The largest per capita weekly gain ($3.01) is found among the employees of public authorities (Group XI), and is chiefly due to a gain of $3.71 per week among the New York City dock builders. The smallest net weekly gain is found among the hotel and restaurant workers (Group X); while 160 waiters and waitresses in Buffalo gained an average of 79 cents weekly, 18 bartenders in Hornellsville lost $4 each per week.

The reduction that affected the largest number was among the 700 male and 800 female waist-makers (Group II) of New York City, whose piece rates were reduced 50 per cent. These were the only women reported who suffered a cut in wages.

The trade most generally benefited was that of bricklayers and masons, of whom 6,671 secured an advance that averaged $2.20 a week. The majority of them were in New York City, where the rate was advanced in June, 1901, from 55 to 60 cents an hour.

New York City naturally claims the bulk of the increases. The average weekly gain there was $2.11 among the unions reporting increases and the net gain, after deducting the losses, was $1.87 per week.

New York's increases were almost entirely in the building and clothing trades; Buffalo's were in the building, transport (rail-road), and (machine) wood working trades; in the Albany-Troy district, street railway employment and machinist's trade; in Rochester, the various building trades, and in Syracuse the few changes were scattered.

*Including Albany, Troy-Lansingburg, Rensselaer-Bath, Green Island, Watervliet, Cohoes and Schenectady.

It is interesting to note that three-fourths of the agreements in which these changes were embodied were made without recourse to strike or lockout; although the number of members affected in this case was only one-third of the total.

It is particularly in the building trades that we find these changes in wages made without the interruption to work known as a strike or lockout, while in the clothing trade the opposite condition prevails and few changes were made without involving the stoppage of work.

It also appears from the preceding table that with the exception of one glass-workers' union, all the unions that arranged changes in the rates of wages through trade boards or joint committees of employers and employed belonged to the building trades. While in other cases the contracts or agreements were made by the workmen immediately concerned or by their union officers or committees, some of the building trades organizations have progressed beyond such temporary expedients for bargaining and have created, in union with the employers, joint committees or trade boards, of a more or less permanent nature. Agreements arrived at through such boards are, in the table now in review, restricted to the marble workers in New York City and the brick layers and masons of New York, Buffalo and Rochester, besides the Ithaca glass-workers' union previously mentioned.

COURSE OF WAGES SINCE 1897.

To measure exactly the improvement in the condition of labor by means of statistics of wages of trade unionists is virtually impossible on account of the constant changes taking place in the character of the membership. Thus in the third quarter of 1901, the male members of labor organizations performed 17,235,701 days' work and earned $47,638,066, which would be an average of $2.77 for each day's work; in the third quarter of 1899, the average daily earnings of male unionists were also $2.77, so that no gain is apparent. In the third quarter of 1900 the average was $2.71, a decline from the preceding year. This was regained in 1901, as shown above.*

Before undertaking the analysis of these quarterly statistics of earnings, we should observe that the quarterly and annual averages might not always agree. The fact is that the average daily earnings in 1897 were only $2.53 as compared with $2.61 for the third quarter, but in 1898 and 1899 the variation was not so great, thus—

	1897.	1898.	1899.
Average daily earnings—entire year.....	$2 53	$2 68	$2 78
Average daily earnings—third quarter.....	2 61	2 70	2 77

It thus appears that in spite of disagreements, both averages reveal the same tendency of wages to increase. In 1900 and 1901 statistics for the second and fourth quarters are wanting, and the comparison between the one quarter and the half year since 1897 is as follows:

AVERAGE DAILY EARNINGS OF MALE TRADE UNIONISTS.

Third quarter only.....	2 61	2 70	2 77	2 71	2 77

* As we have seen, the net gain in wage rates made by 50,253 unionists in 1901 averaged $1.78 per capita weekly; and their average daily gain would amount to about 28 cents. If the gain were spread over the entire membership of labor organizations in the State (averaging about 255,000) the average daily gain would therefore come to five or six cents—an advance from $2.71 to $2.77.

Save for a decrease in 1900, there has been a steady and constant advance in money wages since 1897. The decrease in 1900 and the check in the third quarter of 1901 require examination, which may best begin with the following table of average daily earnings of male unionists by groups of trades:

This table shows at once that the decline in 1900 was general. Eight of the twelve groups, including the four large groups of the building, clothing, metal-working and transport trades, share in the decline; while only the smaller groups (V, VI, VII and IX, i. e., printing, cigar making, baking and brewing and wood working) show an advance. In the summer of 1900, it will be remembered, the high price of building materials checked industrial activity even in trades outside the construction industry (see the table of unemployment, No. 14 above); in the temporary dulness of that period, more men were employed at the minimum union rates and fewer at the maximum. The average earnings of brick layers and masons, carpenters and painters declined from those of the corresponding period in 1899, as did also the earnings of cloakmakers, railway engineers and trainmen, longshoremen and other large bodies of union workmen. (Table 25.)

In 1901, however, no such decline took place. In fact, eight of the twelve industries (including the largest three, building, clothing and metal-working) made gains over 1899 as well as 1900; earnings in the printing industry remained at the same figure, and decreases occurred in only three industries, transportation (Group IV), theaters and music (Group VIII), and miscellaneous employments (Group XII). But these three groups together are only one-half as large as the building industry alone and their combined losses would not suffice to bring down the general average without the influence of other important factors. The change in the transport trades (Group IV), aside from a few decreases among irregularly employed workmen like the longshoremen, is due to the organization of new trades and to the transference to this group of car builders and painters from Group IX, where they had been classified in previous years. Only in the theatrical and musical trades was there a real loss, and it is to be noted that the statistics of these trades are perhaps the least exact of any and employment is besides very irregular.

The real explanation of the failure of the average daily earnings for the sum of all industries to show forth the advance made in 1901 over 1899 by the vast majority of trades is therefore the change in the character of the membership during that period. Inspection of Table 24 will show that three industries (I, V, and VIII) have larger daily earnings than the general average for all industries; now while the total number employed in all industries increased between 1899 and 1901 by 29 per cent, the increase in Group I was only 21 per cent, in Group V, 11 per cent, and in Group VIII there was an actual decrease, so that in 1901 these three groups with high wages constituted less than 43 per cent of the total membership as compared with 46 per cent in 1899. The mere fact of growth would frequently explain a decline in the average earnings of trade unionists, for organization almost invariably proceeds from the more highly paid trades downward; every new organization included in the average is therefore likely to reduce it somewhat. Such a misleading result is an excellent illustration of the deceptiveness of averages unless employed with extreme care.

A much safer, although more complicated, comparison can be made by restricting the averages to well defined trades. Table

5 shows the 34 largest trades within the circle of organized labor and the principal ones are included in the following table of average daily earnings:

Of these 18 leading trades, 4 (carpenters, plumbers, locomotive engineers and trainmen) earned virtually the same amount per day in 1901 as in 1899; 4 (painters, stationary engineers, longshoremen, and compositors) averaged less per diem in 1901 than in 1899; and 9 (bricklayers, cloakmakers, iron molders, machinists, firemen, street railway employees, cigar makers, bakers and brewers) earned more in 1901 than in 1899. The improvement in 1901, seems, therefore, to be fairly general so far as daily earnings are concerned; but before drawing conclusions therefrom we must determine the annual income, expressed in money and, what is more important, in the goods that money will buy.

ANNUAL INCOME OF ORGANIZED WAGE EARNERS.

As nearly all members of labor organizations are paid by the day, the duration of their employment is of primary importance to them. But, as was noticed above, their employment is subject to many irregularities, with the result that earnings vary also, and as the rates of wages also differ from trade to trade, the variations in earnings are accentuated, as appears below:

Among the men the most numerous class in the first quarter consisted of those who earned between $150 and $175; in the third quarter, those who earned between $175 and $200. The earnings of the women are of course very much smaller, the largest class containing those who earned from $75 to $100, which is just half the amount earned by the largest body of men.

Earnings varied noticeably among the different trades, the largest earnings having gone to the men of the theatrical and musical trades, printing, building trades and public employment, thus:

The smallest earnings of men are found in the clothing and textile and tobacco trades, and these are also the trades in which the competition of women is strongest.

Inasmuch as earnings depend first of all upon the duration of employment, it is natural when comparing the present year with previous years to look for about the same results as were reached in the paragraphs upon employment, thus:

DISTRIBUTION OF EACH 100 MALE MEMBERS OF LABOR ORGANIZATIONS ACCORDING TO AMOUNT OF QUARTERLY EARNINGS.

$225	20.2	22.9	25.8	33.5	14.4	32.2

In the first quarter of 1901 there was a much larger proportion who earned the higher amounts and a smaller proportion receiving the low wages than in 1899 or 1900. But in the third quarter, the advantage is with 1899 rather than with 1901, while 1900 is again inferior to the other two years. These facts are also brought out in a comparison of the average earnings which can be carried back to 1897:

TABLE 29.

1901	183	194	105	109

A comparison of this table with table 18 shows the close dependence of earnings upon duration of employment. Thus in the first quarter there is a steady increase from 1897 to 1901 in the average number of days worked by the men, and a similar increase in their average earnings. In the third quarter, 1899 has the largest number of days worked and likewise the largest earnings, while 1901 with 1 day less of employment has also

$3 less in the per capita earnings. This small difference in favor of 1899 is explained by greater activity and longer employment in the building trades of New York City in that year, thus:

	TABLE 30.		AVERAGE QUARTERLY EARNINGS.
	AVERAGE DAYS WORKED.

For purposes of reference a table has been prepared (Table 34 on page 34) showing the average earnings in all the leading trades in the third quarter of each of the last five years. In the majority of trades the largest earnings are to be found in 1899—a result of the longer duration of employment in that period; wage rates, as we have seen (Tables 24-25), having generally been higher in the third quarter of 1901.

In order to facilitate comparisons between different years, it is necessary to obtain an average of the four quarters in each year. This is done, not simply by adding together the four quarterly averages and dividing the sum by four, but by adding together the aggregate earnings for the four quarters and dividing the sum by the total number employed. This operation yields the following results:

	Men employed.	Aggregate earnings.
1897.....	523,298	$86,471,539 00	$165	[$163]
1898.....	599,011	101,183,617 55	169	[169]
1899.....	701,236	131,160,491 89	187	[187]
1900 (2 qrs).....	406,758	72,873,773 01	179	[179]
1901 (2 qrs).....	445,386	84,198,488 10	189	[189]

It will be observed that for the last two years statistics are wanting for two of the four quarters; but this incompleteness does not entirely prevent comparisons since the two quarters lacking (second and fourth) form about the same combination of summer and winter work as do the first and third quarters, for which data exist in each of the five years. Thus the figures for these two quarters alone (the numbers enclosed in brackets in the last column) yield the same quarterly average as those for four quarters in 1898 and 1899, and nearly the same average in 1897. These bracketed figures therefore will best serve for comparative purposes; they form the basis of the following percentages of increase and decrease:

	1897-98.	1898-99.	1899-00.	1900-01.	1897-1901.
Per cent.....	4	12	4 decrease	5	16

Thus the average earnings of organized workingmen in 1898 were 4 per cent greater than in 1897; in 1899 they gained another 12 per cent, but in 1900 lost 4 per cent, while in 1901 they gained 5 per cent, so that at the latter date they were 16 per cent higher than in 1897. Or, if the average earnings of 1897 be taken as a standard of measurement and the earnings of succeeding years expressed in terms of this standard, the result will be as follows: 1897, 100; 1898, 104; 1899, 115; 1900, 110; 1901, 116.

But while wages have risen in the last five years, prices likewise have been advancing, so that it becomes a question whether $116 will now buy more than would $100 in 1897. The answer to that question depends largely upon the kinds of goods bought, since prices fluctuate unevenly. Between 1897 and 1901, for example, the price of coffee declined 19 per cent while that of tea advanced 2 per cent; hence the cost of living would not have increased at the same rate for a family using coffee as its principal beverage as for a family that depended upon tea. Taking the wholesale prices of all standard commodities, we should find that prices have increased at least 21 per cent in the last five years. Thus the official index numbers compiled by the United States Department of Labor and the United States Industrial Commission (in continuation of the series compiled by Professor Commons of the Bureau of Economic Research) and the unofficial record of R. G. Dun & Co., of New York, are as follows:

While it is thus clear that wholesale prices have in general increased not less than 21 per cent in the last five years, it is not certain that the cost of living of workingmen has increased at the same rate, both because retail prices have risen less rapidly than wholesale prices and because some of the commodities listed in these records are not used by working people. Thus the average rate of increase reported by the National Department of Labor depends partly upon an advance of 37 per cent in the price of "farm products," which are raw materials or commodities not directly sold to consumers. The following table shows the advance in wholesale prices of a few selected commodities in the nine classes or groups in which they have been arranged by the Department of Labor:

The advance in the price of food has been virtually the same as the average increase in prices generally, but the price of cloths and clothing has increased only 11 per cent since 1897. Now in the normal family about 40 per cent of the annual expenditures go for food and only 15 per cent for clothing, while the remaining 45 per cent goes for rent, fuel, light, furnishings and miscellaneous things; such at least being the proportion ascertained by the United States Department of Labor in an investigation of 2,562 workingmen's budgets in 1891.* Assuming these proportions to be true of the expenditures of the organized workingmen of this State, we shall arrive at the following results:

Rent.....	15.05 × 100 =	15,100
Food.....	41.05 × 120.8 =	49,600
Fuel and light.....	5.91 × 123.9 =	7,300
Clothing.....	15.81 × 110.9 =	17,000
All other.....	23.68 × 121 =	27,400
	100	116,400

On the assumption that rent has not changed and that the prices of the miscellaneous purchases have increased at the same ratio as prices in general, it appears that the cost of living increased about 16.4 per cent between 1897 and 1901, which is about the same as the advance in earnings. It therefore seems safe to say that despite the more regular employment and higher wages now enjoyed by the working people, their economic condition is little better than it was five years ago, save that they now work shorter hours.

V. Shortening the Hours of Labor.

[Summary tables T-U, detailed table XII.]

The movement for shorter hours described in last year's Report has gone forward during the present year with renewed vigor. Its results among the members of labor organizations are shown in Table XII of Appendix IV and in summary tables T and U of Appendix III. Very little of the ground gained has been lost, the record showing only six instances of a reversion to longer hours, thus:

TABLE 35.

The working time of 319 members of labor unions was increased an average of 4 hours weekly, whereas 26,147 members had their working time shortened by an average of 8 hours weekly. The clothing trades made the greatest gain, both as to time saved and number benefited; they were followed by the metal-working trades, while the building trades came third, thus:

The female members of labor unions shared in the gains to a certain extent; 1,133 women effected a reduction in their weekly working time that aggregated 11,310 hours, or an average of 10 hours each. Nearly all of them were workers in the clothing trades.

Excluding the garment workers, the greatest advance in any trade was made by the machinists, of whom 3,803 who had been working $9\frac{1}{2}$ or 10 hours a day secured the 9-hour day. One-half the number were in New York City and one-half were scattered in 12 smaller cities and towns.

Carpenters numbering 1,446 in the smaller cities reduced their daily working time from 9 and 10 hours; 1,010 dock builders in New York City won 8 and 9 hours, 821 car builders and repairers and 700 machine wood workers in Buffalo reduced their day from 10 to 9 hours, 761 painters and decorators in 11 cities and 1,054 laborers in 5 cities, gained shorter hours.

Over 3,000 workingmen won the 8-hour day, of whom nearly two-thirds belong to the building trades, thus:

In a very large proportion of cases the shortening of hours was accompanied with an advance in the wage rate sufficient to keep the weekly income at its former level. On account of the change in rate, or earnings, these unions also appear in the table of changes in wages, to which reference is frequently made in Table XII.

VI. Summary.

An attempt to summarize the statistics concerning the economic condition of organized labor in the state of New York during the last five years would result about as follows:

APPENDIX I.

BLANK FORMS USED BY THE BUREAU.

On pages 42 and 43 are reprinted the inquiries made of the secretaries of labor organizations in the third quarter of 1901; similar blanks were used for the first quarter. Accompanying this form were a pattern report, reproduced on the opposite page, and a quantity of individual slips to be distributed among the members of the union, filled out by them and returned to the secretary for his use in making up his report to the Bureau.

The blank form for the use of the individual members is as follows:

Please fill out this blank for the State Bureau of Labor Statistics and return it to the Secretary of your union on or before October 3, 1901.

1. How many days were you idle in July, August and September 1901? _____
2. Rate of wages (per day or week)? _____
3. Overtime in above three months: Days? _____ Earnings? _____
4. Total earnings in above three months? _____
5. Were you idle on the last working day in September? _____
6. If so, mark the cause: Lack of work? The weather? Strike or lockout? Lack of material? Sickness? Old age? Other causes?

How to Fill Out the Report.

The third page of the quarterly report of unions is designed to show exactly how many days each member worked during the quarter and what his or her total earnings were. The page is easily filled out, as will be seen by an inspection of the following illustration, which is an actual copy of several reports made to the Bureau last March. As there were 76 working days in the quarter, it will be seen that some members (reporting 103 days) made considerable overtime. The figures concerning women should be arranged in the same way.

Commissioner.

LAWS OF 1901, CHAPTER 9.

AN ACT to create a department of labor and the office of commissioner of labor, and abolishing the offices of commissioner of labor statistics and factory inspector, and the state board of mediation and arbitration.

Section 1. Department of labor and office of commissioner of labor created.—A department of labor and the office of commissioner of labor are hereby created. Within twenty days after this act takes effect, the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall appoint a commissioner of labor, who shall hold his office until January first, nineteen hundred and five. A successor to such commissioner shall be appointed in like manner and shall hold his office for a term of four years, beginning on the first day of January of the year in which he is appointed. Such commissioner shall be the head of such department and receive an annual salary of three thousand five hundred dollars.

§ 2. Offices abolished; powers of commissioners of labor.—The offices of commissioner of labor statistics and factory inspector, and the state board of mediation and arbitration, shall be abolished upon the appointment and qualification of such commissioner of labor. The commissioner of labor shall have the powers conferred and perform the duties imposed by law upon the commissioner of labor statistics and the factory inspector.

§ 3. Deputy commissioners.—The commissioner of labor shall forthwith upon entering upon the duties of his office appoint and may at pleasure remove, two deputy commissioners of labor to be designated respectively as the first and second deputy commissioners of labor, each of whom shall receive an annual salary of two thousand five hundred dollars. Upon the appointment of such deputies the offices of the assistant factory inspector, deputy commissioner of labor statistics, and chief clerk of the commissioner of labor statistics are abolished.

§ 4. Bureaus of department.—The department of labor shall be divided by the commissioner of labor into three bureaus as follows: factory inspection, labor statistics and mediation and arbitration. The bureau of factory inspection shall be under the special charge of the first deputy commissioner of labor, who, under the supervision and direction of the commissioner of labor shall have such of the powers conferred, and perform such of the duties imposed, by law upon the factory inspector, as shall be designated by the commissioner of labor. The bureau of labor statistics shall be under the special charge of the second deputy commissioner of labor, who, subject to the supervision and direction of the commissioner of labor shall have such of the powers conferred and perform such of the duties imposed by law upon the commissioner of labor statistics, as shall be designated by the commissioner of labor. The bureau of mediation and arbitration shall be under the special charge and supervision of the commissioner of labor, who, together with the first and second deputy commissioners of labor shall constitute a board, which shall have the powers conferred, and perform the duties imposed, by law on the state board of mediation and arbitration. The powers hereby conferred upon the first and second deputy commissioners shall not include the appointment of officers, clerks or other employees in any of the bureaus of the department of labor.

§ 5. Officers and employees.—Except as provided by this act, the deputies, officers and employees in the office of or appointed by the factory inspector, the commissioner of labor statistics, and the state board of mediation and arbitration are continued in office until removed pursuant to law.

§ 6. Construction.—Wherever the terms commissioner of labor statistics, or factory inspector, occur in any law, they shall be deemed to refer to the commissioner of labor, and wherever the term state board of mediation and arbitration occurs in any law, it shall be deemed to refer to the board created by this act.

§ 7. Pending actions and proceedings.—This act shall not affect pending actions or proceedings, civil or criminal, brought by or against the commissioner of labor statistics or factory inspector. All proceedings and matters pending before the state board of mediation and arbitration when this act takes effect shall be continued and completed before the board hereby created; and where a grievance or dispute has been submitted to the state board of mediation and arbitration, prior to the taking effect of this act, the board hereby created may make such further investigation in relation thereto as it deems necessary.

§ 8. Repeal.—All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 9. This act shall take effect immediately.

Became a law February 7, 1901, with the approval of the Governor.

Section 1. Short title.—This chapter shall be known as the labor law.

§ 2. Definitions.—The term employee, when used in this chapter, means a mechanic, workingman or laborer who works for another for hire.

The person, employing any such mechanic, workingman or laborer, whether the owner, proprietor, agent, superintendent, foreman or other subordinate, is designated in this chapter as an employer.

II.4 NEW YORK STATE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

The term "factory," when used in this chapter, shall be construed to include also any mill, workshop or other manufacturing or business establishment where one or more persons are employed at labor.

The term "mercantile establishment," when used in this chapter, means any place where goods, wares or merchandise are offered for sale.

Whenever, in this chapter, authority is conferred upon the factory inspector, it shall also be deemed to include his assistant or a deputy acting under his direction.

§ 3. Hours to constitute a day's work.—Eight hours shall constitute a legal day's work for all classes of employees in this state except those engaged in farm and domestic service unless otherwise provided by law. This section does not prevent an agreement for overwork at an increased compensation except upon work by or for the state or a municipal corporation or by contractors or sub-contractors therewith. Each contract to which the state or a municipal corporation is a party which may involve the employment of laborers, workmen or mechanics shall contain a stipulation that no laborer, workman or mechanic in the employ of the contractor, sub-contractor or other person doing or contracting to do the whole or a part of the work contemplated by the contract shall be permitted or required to work more than eight hours in any one calendar day, except in cases of extraordinary emergency caused by fire, flood or danger to life or property. The wages to be paid for a legal day's work as hereinbefore defined to all classes of such laborers, workmen or mechanics upon all such public work or upon any material to be used upon or in connection therewith shall not be less than the prevailing rate for a day's work in the same trade or occupation in the locality within the state where such public work on, about or in connection with which such labor is performed in its final or completed form is to be situated, erected or used. Each such contract hereafter made shall contain a stipulation that each such laborer, workman or mechanic employed by such contractor, sub-contractor or other person on, about or upon such public work, shall receive such wages herein provided for. Each contract for such public work hereafter made shall contain a provision that the same shall be void and of no effect unless the person or corporation making or performing the same shall comply with the provisions of this section; and no such person or corporation shall be entitled to receive any sum nor shall any officer, agent or employee of the state or of a municipal corporation pay the same or authorize its payment from the funds under his charge or control to any such person or corporation for work done upon any contract which in its form or manner of performance violates the provisions of this section, but nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to persons regularly employed in state institutions, or to engineers, electricians and elevatormen in the department of public buildings during the annual session of the legislature. *[As amended by L. 1899, ch. 567 and L. 1900, ch. 298.]

§ 4. Violations of the labor law.—Any officer, agent or employee of this state or of a municipal corporation therein having a duty to act in the premises, who violates, evades or knowingly permits the violation or evasion of any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of malfeasance in office and shall be suspended or removed by the authority having power to appoint or remove such officer, agent or employee, otherwise by the governor. Any citizen of this state may maintain proceedings for the suspension or removal of such officer, agent or employee or may maintain an action for the purpose of securing the cancellation or avoidance of any contract which, by its terms or manner of performance, violates this act, or for the purpose of preventing any officer, agent or employee of such municipal corporation from paying or authorizing the payment of any public money for work done thereupon. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 567.]

§ 5. Hours of labor on street surface and elevated railroads.—Ten consecutive hours' labor, including one-half hour for dinner, shall constitute a day's labor in the operation of all street surface and elevated railroads, of whatever motive power, owned or operated by corporations in this state, whose main line of travel, or whose routes lie principally within the corporate limits of cities of more than one hundred thousand inhabitants. No employee of any such corporation shall be permitted or allowed to work more than ten consecutive hours, including one-half hour for dinner, in any one day of twenty-four hours. In cases of accident or unavoidable delay, extra labor may be performed for extra compensation.

§ 6. Hours of labor in brickyards.—Ten hours, exclusive of the necessary time for meals, shall constitute a legal day's work in the making of brick in brickyards owned or operated by corporations. No corporation owning or operating such brickyards shall require employees to work more than ten hours in any one day, or to commence work before seven o'clock in the morning. But overwork and work prior to seven o'clock in the morning for extra compensation may be performed by agreement between employer and employee.

§ 7. Regulation of hours of labor on steam surface and elevated railroads.—Ten hours' labor, performed within twelve consecutive hours, shall constitute a legal day's labor in the operation of steam surface and elevated railroads owned and operated within this state, except where the mileage system of running trains is in operation. But this section does not apply to the performance of extra hours of labor by conductors, engineers, firemen and trainmen in case of accident or delay resulting therefrom. For each hour of labor performed in any one day in excess of such ten hours, by any such employee, he shall be paid in addition at least one-tenth of his daily compensation. No person or corporation operating a line of railroad of thirty miles in length or over, in whole or in part within this state, shall permit or require a conductor, engineer, fireman or trainman, who has worked in any capacity for twenty-four consecutive hours, to go again on duty or perform any kind of work, until he has had at least eight hours' rest.

§ 8. Payment of wages by receivers.—Upon the appointment of a receiver of a partnership or of a corporation organized under the laws of this state and doing business therein, other than a moneyed corporation, the wages of the employees of such partnership or corporation shall be preferred to every other debt or claim.

§ 9. Cash payment of wages.—Every manufacturing, mining, quarrying, mercantile, railroad, street railway, canal, steamboat, telegraph and telephone company, every express company, and every water company, not municipal, shall pay to each employee engaged in its business the wages earned by him in cash. No such company or corporation shall pay its employees in script, commonly known as store money orders.

§ 10. When wages are to be paid.—Every corporation or joint-stock association, or person carrying on the business thereof by lease or otherwise, shall pay weekly to each employee the wages earned by him to a day not more than six days prior to the date of such payment.

But every person or corporation operating a steam surface railroad shall, on or before the twentieth day of each month, pay the employees thereof the wages earned by them during the preceding calendar month.

§ 11. Penalty for violation of preceding sections.—If a corporation or joint-stock association, its lessee or other person carrying on the business thereof, shall fail to pay the wages of an employee, as provided in this article, it shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of fifty dollars for each such failure, to be recovered by the factory inspector in his name of office in a civil action; but an action shall not be maintained therefor, unless the factory inspector shall have given to the employer at least ten days' written notice, that such an action will be brought if the wages due are not sooner paid as provided in this article.

On the trial of such action, such corporation or association shall not be allowed to set up any defense, other than a valid assignment of such wages, a valid set-off against the same, or the absence of such employee from his regular place of labor at the time of the payment, or an actual tender to such employee at the time of the payment of the wages so earned by him, or a breach of contract by such employee or a denial of the employment.

§ 12. Assignment of future wages.—No assignment of future wages, payable weekly, or monthly in case of a steam surface railroad corporation, shall be valid if made to the corporation or association from which such wages are to become due, or to any person on its behalf, or if made or procured to be made to any person for the purpose of relieving such corporation or association from the obligation to pay weekly, or monthly in case of a steam surface railroad corporation. Charges for groceries, provisions or clothing shall not be a valid offset for wages in behalf of any such corporation or association. No such corporation or association shall require any agreement from an employee to accept wages at other periods than as provided in this article as a condition of employment.

§ 13. Preference in employment of persons upon public works.—In the construction of public works by the state or a municipality, or by persons contracting with the state or such municipality, only citizens of the United States shall be employed; and in all cases where laborers are employed on any such public works, preference shall be given citizens of the state of New York. In each contract for the construction of public works a provision shall be inserted, to the effect that if the provisions of this section are not complied with, the contract shall be void. On and after May first, nineteen hundred and two, all boards, officers, agents or employees of cities of the first class of the state, having the power to enter into contracts which provide for the expenditure of public money on public works shall file in the office of the commissioner of labor the names and addresses of all contractors holding contracts with said cities of the state. Upon the letting of new contracts the names and addresses of such new contractors shall likewise be filed. Upon the demand of the commissioner of labor a contractor shall furnish a list of the names and addresses of all sub-contractors in his employ. Each contractor performing work for any city of the first class, shall keep a list of his employees, in which it shall be set forth whether they are naturalized or native born citizens of the United States, together with, in case of naturalization, the date of naturalization and the name of the court where such naturalization was granted. Such lists and records shall be open to the inspection of the commissioner of labor. A violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than thirty nor more than ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [As amended by L. 1902, ch. 454.]*

§ 14. Stone used in state or municipal works.—All stone used in state and municipal works, except paving blocks and crushed stone, shall be worked, dressed and carved within the state. There shall be inserted in each contract or specification hereafter awarded by state, county or municipal authorities, authorizing or requiring the use of worked, dressed or carved stone, except paving blocks or crushed stone, within the state or such county or municipality, a clause to the effect that such stone shall be so worked, dressed or carved within the boundaries of the state as required by this section. If a contractor of the state or any municipality therein shall use stone, except paving blocks and crushed stone, which has been worked, dressed or carved without the state, the state or such municipality shall revoke the contract of such contractor and be released from liability thereon.†

§ 15 Labels, brands, et cetera, used by labor organizations.—A union or association of employees may adopt a device in the form of a label, brand, mark, name or other character for the purpose of designating the products of the labor of the members thereof. Duplicate copies of such device shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, who shall, under his hand and seal, deliver to the union or association filing or registering the same a certified copy and a certificate of the filing thereof, for which he shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar. Such certificate shall not be assignable by the union or association to whom it is issued.

§ 16. Penalty for illegal use of labels, et cetera; injunction proceedings.—A person manufacturing, using, displaying or keeping for sale a counterfeit or colorable imitation of a device so adopted and filed, or goods bearing the same, or who shall use or display a genuine device, so adopted and filed, without authority from or in a manner not authorized by the owner thereof, shall be subject to a penalty of two hundred dollars, to be

After filing copies of such device, such union or association may also maintain an action to enjoin the manufacture, use, display or sale of counterfeit or colorable imitations of such device, or of goods bearing the same, or the unauthorized use or display of such device, or of goods bearing the same, and the court may restrain such wrongful manufacture, use, display or sale, and every unauthorized use or display by others of the genuine devices so registered and filed, if such use or display is not authorized by the owner thereof, and may award to the plaintiff such damages resulting from such wrongful manufacture, use, display or sale as may be proved, together with the profits derived therefrom. The factory inspector or deputy factory inspector making the examination shall attach a certificate to the scaffolding, or the

Such notice may be served personally upon the person responsible for its erection, or by conspicuously affixing it to the scaffolding, or the part thereof declared to be unsafe. After such notice has been so served or affixed, the person responsible therefor shall immediately remove such scaffolding or part thereof, and alter or strengthen it in such manner as to render it safe, in the discretion of the officer who has examined it, or of his superiors. If the plans and specifications of such buildings do not require filling in between the beams of floors with brick or fire-proof material all contractors for carpenter work, in the course of construction, shall lay the underflooring thereof on each story as the building progresses, to not less than within two stories below the one to which such building has been erected. Where double floors are not to be used, such contractor shall keep planked over the floor two stories below the story where the work is being performed. If the floor beams are of iron or steel, the contractors for the iron or steel work of buildings in course of construction or the owners of such buildings, shall thoroughly plank over the entire tier of iron or steel beams on which the structural iron or steel work is being erected, except such spaces as may be reasonably required for the proper construction of such iron or steel work, and for the raising or lowering of materials to be used in the construction of such building, or such spaces as may be designated by the plans and specifications for stairways and elevator shafts. If elevating machines or hoisting apparatus are used within a building in the course of construction, for the purpose of lifting materials to be used in such construction, the contractors or owners shall cause the shafts or openings in each floor to be enclosed or fenced in on all sides by a barrier at least eight feet in height. If a building in course of construction is five stories or more in height, no lumber or timber needed for such construction shall be hoisted or lifted on the outside of such building. The district attorney to whom such presentation is made shall proceed at once to prosecute the person or corporation for the violations complained of, pursuant to this chapter and the provisions of the penal code. § 90. Inspection of factory buildings.—The factory inspector, or other competent person designated by him, upon request, shall examine any factory outside of the cities of New York and Brooklyn, to determine

If it appears to him to be unsafe, he shall immediately notify the owner, agent or lessee thereof, specifying the defects, and require such repairs and improvements to be made as he may deem necessary. If the owner, agent or lessee shall fail to comply with such requirement, he shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of fifty dollars, to be recovered by the factory inspector in his name of office.

*With this article is to be compared section 28 of the Public Health Law (L. 1893, ch. 661), which reads as follows:

Section 28. Manufactures in tenement houses and dwellings.—No room or apartment in a tenement or dwelling house, used for eating or sleeping purposes, shall be used for the manufacture, wholly or partly, of coats, vests, trousers, knee-pants, overalls, cloaks, shirts, purses, feathers, artificial flowers or cigars, except by the members of the family living therein, which shall include a husband and wife and their children, or the children of either. A family occupying or controlling such a workshop shall, within fourteen days from the time of beginning work therein, notify the board of health of the city, village or town, where such workshop is located, or a special inspector appointed by such board, of the location of such workshops, the nature of the work carried on, and the number of persons employed therein; and thereupon such board shall, if it deems advisable, cause a permit to be issued to such family to carry on the manufacture specified in the notice. Such board may appoint as many persons as it deems advisable to act as special inspectors. Such special inspectors shall receive no compensation, but may be paid by the board their reasonable and necessary expenses. If a board of health or such inspector shall find evidence of infectious or contagious diseases present in any workshop, or in goods manufactured or in process of manufacture therein the board shall issue such orders as the public health may require, and shall condemn and destroy such infectious and contagious articles, and may, if necessary to protect the public health, revoke any permit granted by it for manufacturing goods in such workshop. If a board of health or any such inspector shall discover that any such goods are being brought into the state, having been manufactured, in whole or in part, under unhealthy conditions, such board or inspector shall examine such goods, and if they are found to contain vermin, or to have been made in improper places or under unhealthy conditions, the board may make such orders as the public health may require, and may condemn and destroy such goods.

in such form as the factory inspector may determine. Blank applications shall be prepared and furnished by the factory inspector. Before any such license is granted, an inspection of the room, apartment or building sought to be licensed must be made by the factory inspector. If the factory inspector ascertain that such room, apartment or building is in a clean and proper sanitary condition and that the articles specified in this section may be manufactured therein under clean and healthful condition, he shall grant a license permitting the use of such room, apartment or building, for the purpose of manufacturing, altering, repairing or finishing such articles. Each license shall state the maximum number of persons who may be employed in the room or rooms to which such license relates. The number of persons to be so employed shall be determined by the number of cubic feet of air space contained in each room or apartment mentioned in such license, allowing not less than two hundred and fifty cubic feet for each person employed between the hours of six o'clock in the morning and six o'clock in the evening; and, unless by a special written permit of the factory inspector, not less than four hundred cubic feet for each person employed therein between the hours of six o'clock in the evening and six o'clock in the morning, but no such permit shall be issued unless such room or apartment is lighted by electricity or other suitable light, at all times during such hours, while such persons are employed therein. Such license must be framed and posted in a conspicuous place in each room or apartment to which it relates. It may be revoked by the factory inspector if the health of the community or of the employees requires it, or if it appears that the rooms or apartments to which such license relates are not in a healthy and proper sanitary condition. Every room or apartment in which any of the articles named in this section are manufactured, altered, repaired or finished shall be kept in a clean and sanitary condition and shall be subject to inspection and examination by the factory inspector, for the purpose of ascertaining whether said garments or articles or any part or parts thereof, are clean and free from vermin and every matter of an infectious or contagious nature. No person shall hire, employ or contract with any member of a family, or any person not holding a license therefor, to manufacture, alter, repair or finish any of the articles named in this section in any room or apartment in any tenement or dwelling house or in any room or apartment in any building situated in the rear of a tenement or dwelling house as aforesaid. This section shall not prevent the employment of a tailor or seamstress by any person or family for the purpose of making, altering, repairing or finishing any article of wearing apparel for such person or for family use. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 191.]

Such register shall be subject to inspection by the factory inspector, and a copy thereof shall be furnished on his demand. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 191.]

§ 102. Goods unlawfully manufactured to be labeled.—Articles manufactured, altered, repaired or finished contrary to the provisions of section one hundred of this chapter shall not be sold or exposed for sale by any person. The factory inspector shall conspicuously affix to any such article found to be unlawfully manufactured, altered, repaired or finished a label containing the words "tenement-made" printed in small pica capital letters on a tag not less than four inches in length. The factory inspector shall notify the person owning or alleging to own such article that he has so labeled it. No person, except the factory inspector, shall remove or deface any tag or label so affixed. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 191.]

§ 103. Powers and duties of boards of health relative to tenement-made articles.—If the factory inspector finds evidence of disease present in a workshop or in a room or apartment in a tenement or dwelling house or in any room or apartment of a building in the rear of a tenement or dwelling house, in which any of the articles named in section one hundred of this chapter are manufactured, altered, repaired or finished or in process thereof he shall affix to such articles the label prescribed in the preceding section, and immediately report to the local board of health, who shall disinfect such articles, if necessary, and thereupon remove such label. If the factory inspector finds that infectious or contagious diseases exist in a workshop, room or apartment of a tenement or dwelling house or of a building in the rear thereof, in which any of the articles specified in section one hundred of this chapter, are being manufactured, altered, repaired or finished, or that articles manufactured or in process of manufacture therein are infected or that goods used therein are unfit for use, he shall report to the local board of health, and such board shall issue such order as the public health may require. Such board may condemn and destroy all such infected articles or articles manufactured or in the process of manufacture under unclean or unhealthful conditions. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 191.]

§ 104. Inspection of articles manufactured in other states.—Whenever it is reported to the factory inspector that any of the articles named in section one hundred of this chapter are being shipped into this state, having previously been manufactured in whole or in part under unclean, unsanitary or unhealthy conditions, said inspector shall examine said articles and the conditions of their manufacture, and if upon such examination said goods or any part of them are found to contain vermin or to have been manufactured in improper places or under unhealthy conditions, he shall forthwith affix to them the tag or label hereinbefore described and report thereof to the local board of health, which board shall thereupon make such order or orders as the public safety may require. [Added by L. 1899, ch. 191.]

§ 105. Owners of tenement and dwelling houses not to permit the unlawful use thereof.—The owner, lessee or agent of a tenement or dwelling house or of a building in the rear of a tenement or dwelling house shall not permit the use thereof for the manufacture, repair, alteration or finishing of any of the articles mentioned in this article contrary to its provisions. If a room or apartment in such tenement or dwelling house or in a building in the rear of a tenement or dwelling house be so unlawfully used, the factory inspector shall serve a notice thereof upon such owner, lessee or agent. Unless such owner, lessee or agent shall cause such unlawful manufacture to be discontinued within thirty days after the service of such notice, or within fifteen days thereafter, institutes and faithfully prosecutes proceedings for the dispossession of the occupant of a tenement or dwelling house, or of a building in the rear of a tenement or dwelling house who unlawfully manufactures, repairs, alters or finishes such articles in any room or apartment therein, he shall be deemed guilty of a violation of this article, as if he, himself, was engaged in such unlawful manufacture, repair, alteration or finishing. The unlawful manufacture, repair, alteration or finishing of any of such articles by the occupant of a room or apartment of a tenement or dwelling house, or of a building in the rear of a tenement or dwelling house shall be a cause for dispossessing such occupant by summary proceedings to recover possession of real property, as provided in the code of civil procedure. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 191.]

§ 106. Copy of articles to be posted.—A copy of articles five, six and seven shall be posted in a conspicuous place in each work-room of every factory where persons are employed who are affected by the provisions thereof. [Revised by L. 1901, ch. 475.]

The term of office of the successors of the members of such board in office when this chapter takes effect, shall be abridged so as to expire on the thirty-first day of December preceding the time when each such term would otherwise expire, and thereafter each term shall begin on the first day of January.

One member of such board shall belong to the political party casting the highest, and one to the party casting the next highest number of votes for governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election. The third shall be a member of an incorporated labor organization of this state.

Two members of such board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and may hold meetings at any time or place within the state. Examinations or investigations ordered by the board may be held and taken by and before any of their number, if so directed, but a decision rendered in such case shall not be deemed conclusive until approved by the board.

§ 141. Secretary and his duties.—The board shall appoint a secretary, whose term of office shall be three years. He shall keep a full and faithful record of the proceedings of the board, and all documents and testimony forwarded by the local boards of arbitration, and shall perform such other duties as the board may prescribe. He may, under the direction of the board, issue subpoenas and administer oaths in all cases before the board, and call for and examine books, papers and documents of any parties to the controversy. He shall receive an annual salary of two thousand dollars, payable in the same manner as that of the members of the board.

§ 142. Arbitration by the board.—A grievance or dispute between an employer and his employees may be submitted to the board of arbitration and mediation for their determination and settlement. Such submission shall be in writing, and contain a statement in detail of the grievance or dispute and the cause thereof, and also an agreement to abide the determination of the board, and during the investigation to continue in business or at work, without a lock-out or strike. Witnesses shall be allowed the same fees as in courts of record. The decision of the board must be rendered within ten days after the completion of the investigation.

§ 143. Mediation in case of strike or lock-out.—Whenever a strike or lock-out occurs or is seriously threatened, the board shall proceed as soon as practicable to the locality thereof, and endeavor by mediation to effect an amicable settlement of the controversy. It may inquire into the cause thereof, and for that purpose has the same power as in the case of a controversy submitted to it for arbitration.

§ 144. Decisions of board.—Within ten days after the completion of every examination or investigation authorized by this article, the board or a majority thereof shall render a decision, stating such details as will clearly show the nature of the controversy and the points disposed of by them, and make a written report of their findings of fact and of their recommendations to each party to the controversy. Every decision and report shall be filed in the office of the board and a copy thereof served upon each party to the controversy, and in case of a submission to arbitration, a copy shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county or counties where the controversy arose.

§ 145. Annual report.—The board shall make an annual report to the legislature, and shall include therein such statements and explanations as will disclose the actual work of the board, the facts relating to each controversy considered by them and the decision thereon together with such suggestions as to legislation as may seem to them conducive to harmony in the relations of employers and employees.

§ 146. Submission of controversies to local arbitrators.—A grievance or dispute between an employer and his employees may be submitted to a board of arbitrators, consisting of three persons, for hearing and settlement. When the employees concerned are members in good standing of a labor organization, which is represented by one or more delegates in a central body, one arbitrator may be appointed by such central body and one by the employer. The two so designated shall appoint a third, who shall be chairman of the board.

If the employees concerned in such grievance or dispute are members of good standing of a labor organization which is not represented in a central body, the organization of which they are members may select and designate one arbitrator. This section does not apply to the employment of such persons on Saturday, provided the total number of hours of labor in a week of any such person does not exceed sixty hours, nor to the employment of such persons between the fifteenth day of December and the following first day of January. Not less than forty-five minutes shall be allowed for the noonday meal of the employees of any such establishment.

§ 162. Employment of children.—A child under the age of fourteen years shall not be employed in any mercantile establishment, except that a child upwards of twelve years of age may be employed therein during the vacation of the public schools of the city or district where such establishment is situated. No child under the age of sixteen years shall be employed in any mercantile establishment, unless such child shall produce a certificate issued as provided in this article, to be filed in the office of such establishment.

§ 163. Certificate for employment; how issued.—Such certificate shall be issued by the executive officer of the board, department or commissioner of health of the city, town or village, where such child resides or is to be employed, or by such other officer thereof as may be designated, by resolution for that purpose, upon the application of the child desiring such employment. At the time of making such application there shall be filed with such board, department, commissioner or officer, the affidavit of the parent or guardian of such child or the person standing in parental relation thereto, showing the date and place of birth of such child. Such certificate shall not be issued unless the officer issuing the same is satisfied that such child is fourteen years of age or upwards, and is physically able to perform the work which he intends to do. No fee shall be demanded or received for administering an oath as required by this section.

§ 164. Contents of certificate.—Such certificate shall state the date and place of birth of the child, if known, and describe the color of the hair and eyes, the height and weight and any distinguishing facial marks of such child, and that, in the opinion of the officer issuing such certificate, such child is upwards of fourteen years of age, and is physically able to perform the work which he intends to do.

§ 165. School attendance required.—No such certificate shall be issued unless it appears to the satisfaction of such board, department, commissioner or officer, that the child applying therefor has regularly attended at a school in which reading, spelling, writing, arithmetic, English grammar and geography are taught, or upon equivalent instruction by a competent teacher elsewhere than at a school, for a period equal in length to one school year, during the year previous to his arriving at the age of fourteen years, or during the year previous to applying for such certificate, and is able to read and write simple sentences in the English language.

The principal or other executive officer of a school at which a child has been in attendance, or the teacher who has instructed such child elsewhere than at a school, shall furnish to such child or to the board or department of health, or health officer or commissioner, upon demand, a statement of the school attendance of such child.

Certificates, to be designated as "vacation certificates," may be issued to such children in the same form, containing the same statements and issued by the same officers as the other certificates required by this article. Such vacation certificate shall specify the time in which the child may be employed in a mercantile establishment, which in no case shall be other than the time in which the public schools where such children reside, are closed for a vacation. ●

§ 167. Registry of children employed.—The owner, manager or agent of a mercantile establishment employing children, shall keep or cause to be kept, in the office of such establishment, a register, in which shall be recorded the name, birthplace, age and place of residence of all children so employed under the age of sixteen years. Such register and the certificates filed in such office shall be produced for inspection, upon the demand of an officer of the board, department or commissioner of health of the town, village or city where such establishment is situated.

§ 168. Wash-rooms and water-closets.—Suitable and proper wash-rooms and water-closets shall be provided in, adjacent to or connected with mercantile establishments where women and children are employed. Such rooms and closets shall be so located and arranged as to be easily accessible to the employees of such establishments. Such water-closets shall be properly screened and ventilated, and, at all times, kept in a clean condition. The water-closets assigned to the female employees of such establishments shall be separate from those assigned to the male employees. If a mercantile establishment has not provided wash-rooms and water-closets, as required by this section, the board or department of health or health commissioners of the town, village or city where such establishment is situated, shall cause to be served upon the owner of the building occupied by such establishment, a written notice of the omission and directing such owner to comply with the provisions of this section respecting such wash-rooms and water-closets. Such owner shall, within fifteen days after the receipt of such notice, cause such wash-rooms and water-closets to be provided.

§ 169. Lunch-rooms.—If a lunch-room is provided in a mercantile establishment where females are employed, such lunch-room shall not be next to or adjoining the water-closets, unless permission is first obtained from the board or department of health or health commissioners of the town, village or city where such mercantile establishment is situated. Such permission shall be granted unless it appears that proper sanitary conditions do not exist, and it may be revoked at any time by the board or department of health or health commissioner, if it appears that such lunch-room is kept in a manner or in a part of the building injurious to the health of the employees.

§ 170. Seats for women in mercantile establishments.—Chairs, stools or other suitable seats shall be maintained in mercantile establishments for the use of female employees therein, to the number of at least one seat for every three females employed, and the use thereof by such employees shall be allowed at such times and to such extent as may be necessary for the preservation of their health. If the duties of the female employees, for the use of whom the seats are furnished, are to be principally performed in front of a counter, table, desk or fixture, such seats shall be placed in front thereof; if such duties are to be principally performed behind such counter, table, desk or fixture, such seats shall be placed behind the same.

§ 171. Employment of women and children in basements.—Women or children shall not be employed or directed to work in the basement of a mercantile establishment, unless permitted by the board or department of health, or health commissioner of the town, village or city where such mercantile establishment is situated. Such permission shall be granted unless it appears that such basement is not sufficiently lighted and ventilated, and is not in good sanitary condition.

§ 172. Enforcement of article.—The board or department of health or health commissioners of a town, village or city affected by this article shall enforce the same and prosecute all violations thereof. Proceedings to prosecute such violations must be begun within thirty days after the alleged offense was committed. All officers and members of such boards or department, all health commissioners, inspectors and other persons appointed or designated by such boards, departments or commissioners may visit and inspect, at reasonable hours and when practicable and necessary, all mercantile establishments within the town, village or city for which they are appointed. No person shall interfere with or prevent any such officer from making such visitations and inspections, nor shall he be obstructed or injured by force or otherwise while in the performance of his duties. All persons connected with any such mercantile establishment shall properly answer all questions asked by such officer or inspector in reference to any of the provisions of this article.

The person to whom the certificate is issued shall present it to the county clerk of the county where he intends to practice, and his name shall be registered, as provided in the preceding section. Such person may thereafter practice as a master or journeyman horseshoer in such county without examination. § 3. Required attendance upon instruction.—Every child between eight and sixteen years of age, in proper physical and mental condition to attend school, shall regularly attend upon instruction at a school in which at least the common school branches of reading, spelling, writing, arithmetic, English grammar and geography are taught, or upon equivalent instruction by a competent teacher elsewhere than at a school, as follows: Every such child between fourteen and sixteen years of age, not regularly and lawfully engaged in any useful employment or service, and every such child between eight and twelve years of age, shall so attend upon instruction as many days annually, during the period between the first days of October and the following June, as the public school of the district or city in which such child resides, shall be in session during the same period. Every child between twelve and fourteen years of age in proper physical and mental condition to attend school, shall attend upon instruction during the school year then current, at least eighty secular days of actual attendance, which shall be consecutive except for holidays, vacations and detentions by sickness, which holidays, vacations and detentions shall not be counted as a part of such eighty days, and such child shall, in addition to the said eighty days, attend upon instruction when not regularly and lawfully engaged in useful employment or service. If any such child shall so attend upon instruction elsewhere than at a public school, such instruction shall be at least substantially equivalent to the instruction given to children of like age at the public school of the city or district in which such child resides; and such attendance shall be for at least as many hours of each day thereof, as are required of children of like age at public schools; and no greater total amount of holidays and vacations shall be deducted from such attendance during the period such attendance is required, than is allowed in such public school to children of like age. Occasional absences from such attendance, not amounting to irregular attendance in the fair meaning of the term, shall be allowed upon such excuses only as would be allowed in like cases by the general rules and practice of such public school. [As amended by L. 1896, ch. 606.]

§ 5. Persons employing children unlawfully to be fined.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to employ any child between the ages of eight and twelve years in any business or service whatever, during any part of the term during which the public schools of the district in which the child resides, are in session; or to employ any child between twelve and fourteen years of age who does not, at the time of such employment, present a certificate signed by the superintendent of schools of the city or district in which the child resides, or, where there is no superintendent, by such other officer as the school authorities may designate, certifying that such child has complied with the law relating to attendance at school during the school year between September and July, then current; and any person who shall employ any child contrary to the provisions of this section shall, for each offense, forfeit and pay to the treasurer of the city or village or to the supervisor of the town in which such offense shall occur, a penalty of fifty dollars, the same, when paid, to be added to the public school moneys of the city, village or district in which the offense occurred.

§ 30. An action may be maintained against any railroad corporation by any laborer for the amount due him from any contractor for the construction of any part of its road, for ninety or any less number of days' labor performed by him in constructing such road, if within twenty days thereafter a written notice shall have been served upon the corporation and the action shall have been commenced after the expiration of ten days and within six months after the service of such notice, which shall contain a statement of the month and particular days upon which the labor was performed, and for which it was unpaid, the price per day, the amount due, the name of the contractor from whom due, and the section upon which performed, and shall be signed by the laborer or his attorney and verified by him to the effect that of his own knowledge the statements contained in it are true. The notice shall be served by delivering the same to an engineer, agent or superintendent having charge of the section of the road upon which the labor was performed, personally, or by leaving it at his office or usual place of business with some person of suitable age or discretion; and if the corporation has no such agent, engineer or superintendent, or in case he can not be found and has no place of business open, service may in like manner be made on any officer or director of the corporation.

Securing the Payment of Wages in New York City.

LAWS OF 1902, CHAPTER 580.

AN ACT in relation to the municipal court of the city of New York, its officers and marshals.

§ 44. Where employee is party.—When an action is brought by an employee against an employer for services performed by such employee, male or female, the clerk of said municipal court in the district in which the action is brought, shall issue a free summons when the plaintiff's demand is less than fifty dollars and the plaintiff is a resident of the city of New York, and proof by the plaintiff's own affidavit that he has a good and meritorious cause of action and of the nature of such action and of said plaintiff's residence, and whether previous application therefor has been made, shall be duly presented to and filed with the clerk of the municipal court where such action shall be brought and he shall not demand or receive any fee whatsoever from the plaintiff or his agents or attorneys in such action, unless the plaintiff shall demand a trial jury, in which case the plaintiff must pay to the clerk of the municipal court where such action shall be pending the sum of four dollars and fifty cents.

§ 274. Judgment in favor of wage earners.—In an action brought in the municipal court, by a journeyman, laborer, or other employee whose employment answered to the general description of wage earner, for services rendered or wages earned in such capacity, if the plaintiff recovers a judgment for a sum not exceeding fifty dollars, exclusive of costs, and the action shall have been brought within one month after the cause of action accrued, no property of the defendant is exempt from levy and sale by virtue of an execution against property, issued thereupon; and, if such an execution is returned wholly or partly unsatisfied, the clerk must, upon the application of the plaintiff, issue an execution against the person of the defendant for the sum remaining uncollected, if the indorsement required by this act to the effect that defendant was liable to arrest was complied with. A defendant arrested by virtue of an execution so issued against his person, must be actually confined in the jail, and is not entitled to the liberties thereof; but he must be discharged after having been so confined for fifteen days. After his discharge another execution against his person cannot be issued upon the judgment, but the judgment creditor may enforce the judgment against property as if the execution, from which the judgment debtor is discharged, has been returned, without his being taken.

§ 340. Costs in action by working woman.—In an action brought to recover a sum of money for wages earned by a female employee, other than a domestic servant; or for material furnished by such an employee, in the course of her employment, or in or about the subject-matter thereof, or for both, the plaintiff, if entitled to costs, recovers the sum of ten dollars as costs, in addition to the costs allowed in this court, unless the amount of damages recovered is less than ten dollars; in which case, the plaintiff recovers the sum of five dollars as such additional costs. When the employee is the plaintiff in such an action, she is entitled upon a settlement thereof, to the full amount of costs, which she would have recovered, if judgment had been rendered in her favor, for the sum received by her upon the settlement.

§ 348. Employee's action; no fees.—When the action is brought by an employee against an employer for services performed by such employee, male or female, the clerks of this court shall not demand or receive any fees whatsoever from the plaintiff or his agents or attorneys in such action, if the plaintiff shall present proof by his own affidavit that his demand is less than fifty dollars, that he is a resident of the city of New York, that he has a good and meritorious cause of action against the defendant, and the nature thereof; that he has made either a written or a personal demand upon the defendant or his agent or representative, for payment thereof, and that payment was refused. Except that if the plaintiff shall demand a trial by jury, he must pay to the clerk the fees therefor prescribed in this act.

Section 1. Short title.—This chapter shall be known as the lien law.

§ 2. Definitions.—The term “lienor,” when used in this chapter, means any person having a lien upon property by virtue of its provisions, and includes his successor in interest. The term “real property,” when used in this chapter, includes real estate, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, corporeal and incorporeal, fixtures, and all bridges and trestle work, and structures connected therewith, erected for the use of railroads, and all oil or gas wells and structures and fixtures connected therewith, and any lease of oil lands or other right to operate for the production of oil or gas upon such lands, and the right or franchise granted by a municipal corporation for the use of the streets or public places thereof, and all structures placed thereon for the use of such right or franchise. The term “owner,” when so used, includes the owner in fee of real property, or of a less estate therein, a lessee for a term of years, a vendee in possession under a contract for the purchase of such real property, and all persons having any right, title or interest in such real property, which may be sold under an execution in pursuance of the provisions of statutes relating to the enforcement of liens of judgment, and all persons having any right or franchise granted by a municipal corporation to use the streets and public places thereof, and any right, title or interest in and to such franchise. The purchaser of real property at a statutory or judicial sale shall be deemed the owner thereof, from the time of such sale. If the purchaser at such sale fails to complete the purchase, pursuant to the terms of the sale, all liens created by his consent after such sale shall be a lien on any deposit made by him and not on the real property sold. The term “improvement,” when so used, includes the erection, alteration or repair of any structure upon, connected with, or beneath the surface of, any real property and any work done upon such property, or materials furnished for its permanent improvement. The term “public improvement,” when so used, means an improvement upon any real property belonging to the state or municipal corporation. The term “contractor,” when so used, means a person who enters into a contract with the owner of real property for the improvement thereof. The term “sub-contractor,” when so used, means a person who enters into a contract for the improvement of such real property with a contractor, or with a person who has contracted with or through such contractor, for the performance of his contract or any part thereof. The term “laborer,” when so used, means any person who performs labor or services upon such improvement. The term “material man,” when so used, means any person, other than a contractor, who furnishes material for such improvement.

§ 3. Mechanics’ lien on real property.—A contractor, sub-contractor, laborer or material man, who performs labor or furnishes materials for the improvement of real property with the consent or at the request of the owner thereof, or of his agent, contractor or sub-contractor, shall have a lien for the principal and interest of the value, or the agreed price, of such labor or materials upon the real property improved or to be improved and upon such improvement, from the time of filing a notice of such lien as prescribed in this article.

§ 4. Extent of lien.—Such lien shall extend to the owner’s right, title or interest in the real property and improvements, existing at the time of filing the notice of lien. If an owner assigns his interest in such real property by a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, within thirty days prior to such filing, the lien shall extend to the interest thus assigned. If any part of the real property subjected to such lien be removed by the owner or by any other person, at any time before the discharge thereof, such removal shall not affect the rights of the lienor, either in respect to the remaining real property, or the part so removed. If labor is performed for, or materials furnished to a contractor or sub-contractor for an improvement, the lien shall not be for a sum greater than the sum earned and unpaid on the contract at the time of filing the notice of lien, and any sum subsequently earned thereon. In no case shall the owner be liable to pay by reason of all liens, created pursuant to this article a sum greater than the value or agreed price of the labor and materials remaining unpaid, at the time of filing notices of such liens, except as hereinafter provided.

§ 5. Liens under contracts for public improvements.—A person performing labor for or furnishing materials to a contractor, his sub-contractor or legal representative for the construction of a public improvement pursuant to a contract by such contractor with the state or a municipal corporation, shall have a lien for the principal and interest of the value or agreed price of such labor or materials upon the moneys of the state or of such corporation applicable to the construction of such improvement, to the extent of the amount due or to become due on such contract, upon filing a notice of lien as prescribed in this article. [As amended by L. 1902, ch. 37.]

§ 6. Liens for labor on railroads.—Any person who shall hereafter perform any labor for a railroad corporation shall have a lien for the value of such labor upon the railroad track, rolling stock and appurtenances of such railroad corporation and upon the land upon which such railroad track and appurtenances are situated, by filing a notice of such lien in the office of the clerk of any county wherein any part of such railroad is situated, to the extent of the right, title and interest of such corporation in such property, existing at the time of such filing. The provisions of this article relating to the contents, filing and entry of a notice of a mechanic's lien, and the priority and duration thereof, shall apply to such liens. A copy of the notice of such lien shall be personally served upon such corporation within ten days after the filing thereof in the manner prescribed by the code of civil procedure for the service of summons in actions in justices' courts against domestic railroad corporations.

§ 7. Liability of owner for advance payments, collusive mortgages and incumbrances.—Any payment by the owner to a contractor upon a contract for the improvement of real property, made prior to the time when, by the terms of the contract, such payment becomes due, for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this article, shall be of no effect as against the lien of a sub-contractor, laborer or material man under such contract, created before such payment actually becomes due. A mortgage, lien or incumbrance made by an owner of real property, for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this article, with the knowledge or privity of the person in whose favor the mortgage, lien or incumbrance is created, shall be void and of no effect as against a claim on account of the improvement of such real property, existing at the time of the creation of such mortgage, lien or incumbrance.

§ 8. Terms of contract may be demanded.—A statement of the terms of a contract pursuant to which an improvement of real property is being made, and of the amount due or to become due thereon, shall be furnished upon demand, by the owner, or his duly authorized agent, to a sub-contractor, laborer or material man performing labor for or furnishing materials to a contractor, his agent or sub-contractor, under such contract. If, upon such demand the owner refuses or neglects to furnish such statement or falsely states the terms of such contract or the amount due or to become due thereon, and a sub-contractor, laborer or material man has not been paid the amount of his claim against a contractor or sub-contractor, under such contract, and a judgment has been obtained and execution issued against such contractor or sub-contractor and returned wholly or partly unsatisfied, the owner shall be liable for the loss sustained by reason of such refusal, neglect or false statement, and the lien of such sub-contractor, laborer or material man, filed as prescribed in this article, against the real property improved for the labor performed or materials furnished after such demand, shall exist to the same extent and be enforced in the same manner as if such labor and materials had been directly performed for and furnished to such owner.

§ 9. Contents of notice of lien.—The notice of lien shall state:

1. The name and residence of the lienor.
2. The name of the owner of the real property against whose interest therein a lien is claimed, and the interest of the owner as far as known to the lienor.
3. The name of the person by whom the lienor was employed, or to whom he furnished or is to furnish materials; or, if the lienor is a contractor or sub-contractor, the person with whom the contract was made.
4. The labor performed or to be performed, or materials furnished or to be furnished and the agreed price or value thereof.
5. The amount unpaid to the lienor for such labor or materials.
6. The time when the first and last items of work were performed and materials were furnished.
7. The property subject to the lien, with a description thereof sufficient for identification; and if in a city or village, its location by street and number, if known. A failure to state the name of the true owner or contractor, or a misdescription of the true owner, shall not affect the validity of the lien. The notice must be verified by the lienor or his agent, to the effect that the statements therein contained are true to his knowledge, except as to the matters therein stated to be alleged on information and belief, and that as to those matters he believes it to be true.

§ 10. Filing of notice.—The notice of lien may be filed at any time during the progress of the work and the furnishing of the materials, or within ninety days after the completion of the contract, or the final performance of the work, or the final furnishing of the materials, dating from the last item of work performed or materials furnished. The notice of lien must be filed in the clerk's office of the county where the property is situated. If such property is situated in two or more counties the notice of lien shall be filed in the office of the clerk of each of such counties. The county clerk of each county shall provide and keep a book to be called the "lien docket" which shall be suitably ruled in columns headed "owners," "lienors," "property," "amount," "time of filing," "proceedings had," in each of which he shall enter the particulars of the notice, properly belonging therein. The date, hour and minute of the filing of each notice of lien shall be entered in the proper column. The names of the owners shall be arranged in such book in alphabetical order. The validity of the lien and the right to file a notice thereof shall not be affected by the death of the owner before notice of the lien is filed.

§ 11. Service of copy of notice.—At any time after filing the notice of lien, the lienor may serve a copy of such notice upon the owner, by delivering the same to him personally, or if the owner can not be found, to his agent or attorney, or by leaving it at his last known place of residence in the city or town in which the real property or some part thereof is situated, with a person of suitable age and discretion, or by registered letter addressed to his last known place of residence, or, if such owner has no such residence in such city or town, or can not be found, and he has no agent or attorney, by affixing a copy thereof conspicuously on such property, between the hours of nine o'clock in the forenoon and four o'clock in the afternoon. Until service of the notice has been made, as above provided, an owner, without knowledge of the lien, shall be protected in any payment made in good faith to any contractor or other person claiming a lien. A failure to serve the notice does not otherwise affect the validity of such lien.

§ 12. Notice of lien on account of public improvements.—At any time before the construction of a public improvement is completed and accepted by the state or by the municipal corporation, and within thirty days after such completion and acceptance, a person performing work for or furnishing materials to a contractor, his sub-contractor, assignee or legal representative, may file a notice of lien with the head of the department or bureau having charge of such construction and with the comptroller of the state or with the financial officer of the municipal corporation, or other officer or person charged with the custody and disbursements of the state or corporate funds applicable to the contract under which the claim is made. The notice shall state the name and residence of the lienor, the name of the contractor or sub-contractor for whom the labor was performed or materials furnished, the amount claimed to be due or to become due, the date when due, a description of the public improvement upon which the labor was performed and materials expended, the kind of labor performed and materials furnished and give a general description of the contract pursuant to which such public improvement was constructed. If the name of the contractor or sub-contractor is not known to the lienor, it may be so stated in the notice, and a failure to state correctly the name of the contractor or sub-contractor shall not affect the validity of the lien. The comptroller of the state or the financial officer of the municipal corporation or other officer or person with whom the notice is filed shall enter the same in a book provided for that purpose, to be called the "lien book." Such entry shall include the name and residence of the lienor, the name of the contractor or sub-contractor, the amount of the lien and date of filing, and a brief designation of the contract under which the lien arose. [As amended by L. 1902, ch. 37.]

§ 13. Priority of liens.—A lien for materials furnished or labor performed in the improvement of real property shall have priority over a conveyance, judgment or other claim against such property not recorded, docketed or filed at the time of filing the notice of such lien; over advances made upon any mortgage or other incumbrance thereon after such filing; and over the claim of a creditor who has not furnished materials or performed labor upon such property, if such property has been assigned by the owner by a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, within thirty days before the filing of such notice. Such liens shall also have priority over advances made upon a contract by an owner for an improvement of real property which contains an option to the contractor, his successor or assigns to purchase the property, if such advances were made after the time when the labor began or the first item of material was furnished, as stated in the notice of lien. If several buildings are erected, altered or repaired, or several pieces or parcels of real property are improved, under one contract, and there are conflicting liens thereon, each lienor shall have priority upon the particular building or premises where his labor is performed or his materials are used. Persons standing in equal degrees as co-laborers or material men, shall have priority according to the date of filing their respective liens; but in all cases laborers for daily or weekly wages shall have preference over all other claimants under this article, without reference to the time when such laborers shall have filed their notices of liens.

§ 14. Assignment of lien.—A lien, filed as prescribed in this article, may be assigned by a written instrument signed and acknowledged by the lienor, at any time before the discharge thereof. Such assignment shall contain the names and places of residence of the assignor and assignee, the amount of the lien and the date of filing the notice of lien, and be filed in the office where the notice of the lien assigned is filed. The facts relating to such an assignment and the names of the assignee shall be entered by the proper officer in the book where the notice of lien is entered and opposite the entry thereof. Unless such assignment is filed, the assignee need not be made a defendant in an action to foreclose a mortgage, lien or other incumbrance. A payment made by the owner of the real property subject to the lien assigned or by his agent or contractor, or by the contractor of a municipal corporation, to the original lienor, on account of such lien, without notice of such assignment and before the same is filed, shall be valid and of full force and effect. Except as prescribed herein, the validity of an assignment of a lien shall not be affected by a failure to file the same.

§ 15. Assignments of contracts and orders to be filed.—No assignment of a contract for the performance of labor or the furnishing of materials for the improvement of real property or of the money or any part thereof due or to become due therefor, nor an order drawn by a contractor or subcontractor upon the owner of such real property for the payment of such money shall be valid, until the contract or a statement containing the substance thereof and such assignment or a copy of each or a copy of such order, be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county wherein the real property improved or to be improved is situated, and such contract, assignment or order shall have effect and be enforceable from the time of such filing. Such clerk shall enter the facts relating to such assignment or order in the "lien docket" or in another book provided by him for such purpose.

§ 16. Duration of lien.—No lien specified in this article shall be a lien for a longer period than one year after the notice of lien has been filed, unless within that time an action is commenced to foreclose the lien, and a notice of the pendency of such action, whether in a court of record or in a court not of record, is filed with the county clerk of the county in which the notice of lien is filed, containing the names of the parties to the action, the object of the action, a brief description of the real property affected thereby, and the time of filing the notice of lien; or unless an order be granted within one year from the filing of such notice by a court of record, continuing such lien, and such lien shall be redocketed as of the date of granting such order and a statement made that such lien is continued by virtue of such order. No lien shall be continued by such order for more than one year from the granting thereof, but a new order and entry may be made in each successive year. If a lienor is made a party defendant in an action to enforce another lien, and the plaintiff or such defendant has filed a notice of the pendency of the action within the time prescribed in this section, the lien of such defendant is thereby continued. Such action shall be deemed an action to enforce the lien of such defendant lienor. The failure to file a notice of pendency of action shall not abate the action as to any person liable for the payment of the debt specified in the notice of lien, and the action may be prosecuted to judgment against such person.

§ 17. Duration of lien under contract for a public improvement.—If the lien is for labor done or materials furnished for a public improvement, it shall not continue for a longer period than three months from the time of filing the notice of such lien, unless an action is commenced to foreclose such lien within that time, and a notice of the pendency of such action is filed with the comptroller of the state or the financial officer of the municipal corporation with whom the notice of such lien was filed, or unless an order be made by a court of record, continuing such lien, and a new docket be made stating such fact. And the supreme court of this state, or any justice thereof, or the county court of the county in which such lien was filed, or the county judge of such county, are hereby authorized to make an order continuing any such lien for a period not exceeding six months, upon the application of a lienor upon such affidavits or evidence as in the opinion of such court or judge shall be deemed sufficient. Nothing in this act contained, however, shall prevent any such court or judge from making a new order continuing such lien in each succeeding six months, if in the discretion of such court or judge the same shall be deemed just and equitable. This section as hereby amended, shall apply to all liens under contract for public improvements, now on file, in which the time for making application to the court for a continuance thereof has not expired, when this amendment takes effect. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 25 and L. 1902, ch. 37.]

§ 18. Discharge of lien generally.—A lien other than a lien for labor performed or materials furnished for a public improvement specified in this article, may be discharged as follows:

1. By the certificate of the lienor, duly acknowledged or proved and filed in the office where the notice of lien is filed, stating that the lien is satisfied and may be discharged.

2. By failure to begin an action to foreclose such lien or to secure an order continuing it, within one year from the time of filing the notice of lien.

3. By order of the court vacating or canceling such lien of record, for neglect of the lienor to prosecute the same, granted pursuant to the code of civil procedure.

4. Either before or after the beginning of an action by the owner executing an undertaking with two or more sufficient sureties, who shall be freeholders, to the clerk of the county where the premises are situated, in such sums as the court or a judge or justice thereof may direct, not less than the amount claimed in the notice of lien conditioned for the payment of any judgment which may be rendered against the property for the enforcement of the lien. The sureties must together justify in at least double the sum named in the undertaking. A copy of the undertaking, with notice that the sureties will justify before the court, or a judge or justice thereof, at the time and place therein mentioned, must be served upon the lienor or his attorney, not less than five days before such time. Upon the approval of the undertaking by the court, judge or justice an order shall be made discharging such lien. The execution of any such bond or undertaking by any fidelity or surety company authorized by the laws of this state to transact business, shall be equivalent to the execution of said bond or undertaking by two sureties; and such company, if excepted to, shall justify through its officers or attorney in the manner required by law of fidelity and surety companies. Any such company may execute any such bond or undertaking as surety by the hand of its officers or attorney duly authorized thereto by resolution of its board of directors a certified copy of which resolution under the seal of said company, shall be filed with each bond or undertaking.

§ 19. Discharge of lien by payment of money into court.—A lien specified in this article, other than a lien for performing labor or furnishing materials for public improvement, may be discharged, at any time before an action is commenced to foreclose such lien, by depositing with the county clerk, in whose office the notice of lien is filed, a sum of money equal to the amount claimed in such notice, with interest to the time of such deposit. After such action is commenced the lien may be discharged by a payment into court of such sum of money, as, in the judgment of the court or a judge or justice thereof, after at least five days' notice to all the parties to the action, will be sufficient to pay any judgment which may be recovered in such action. Upon any such payment, the county clerk shall forthwith enter upon the lien docket and against the lien for the discharge of which such moneys were paid, the words "discharged by payment." A deposit of money made as prescribed in this section shall be repaid to the party making the deposit, or his successor, upon the discharge of the liens against the property pursuant to law. All deposits of money made as provided in this section shall be considered as paid into court and shall be subject to the provisions of the code of civil procedure relative to the payment of money into court and the surrender of such money by order of the court. An order for the surrender of such moneys may be made by any court of record having jurisdiction of the parties and of the subject matter of the proceeding for the foreclosure of the lien for the discharge of which such moneys were deposited. If no action is brought in a court of record to enforce such lien, such order may be made by any judge of a court of record.

§ 20. Discharge of lien for public improvement.—A lien against the amount due or to become due a contractor from the state or a municipal corporation for the construction of a public improvement may be discharged as follows:

1. By filing a certificate of the lienor or his successor in interest, duly acknowledged and proved, stating that the lien is discharged.

2. By lapse of time, when three months have elapsed since filing notice of lien, and no action has been commenced to enforce the lien.

3. By satisfaction of a judgment rendered in an action to enforce the lien.

4. By the contractor depositing with the comptroller of the state or the financial officer of the municipal corporation, or the officer or person with whom the notice of lien is filed, such a sum of money as is directed by a justice of the supreme court, which shall not be less than the amount claimed by the lienor, with interest thereon for the term of one year from the time of making such deposit, and such additional amount as the justice deems sufficient to cover all costs and expenses. The amount so deposited shall remain with the comptroller or such financial officer or other officer or person until the lien is discharged as prescribed in subdivision one, two or three of this section.

5. Either before or after the beginning of an action by a contractor executing an undertaking with two or more sufficient sureties, who shall be freeholders, to the state or the municipal corporation with which the notice of lien is filed, in such sums as the court or a judge or justice thereof may direct, not less than the amount claimed in the notice of lien, conditioned for the payment of any judgment which may be recovered in an action to enforce the lien. The sureties must together justify in at least double the sum named in the undertaking. A copy of the undertaking with notice that the sureties will justify before the court or a judge or justice thereof at the time and place therein mentioned must be served upon the lienor, not less than five days before such time. Upon the approval of the undertaking by the court, judge or justice, an order shall be made discharging such lien. The execution of such undertaking by any fidelity or surety company authorized by the laws of this state to transact business shall be equivalent to the execution of such an undertaking by two sureties and such undertaking, if excepted to, shall justify through its officers or attorney in the manner required by law of fidelity and surety companies. Any such undertaking may be executed in such undertaking as surety by the hand of its officers or attorney duly authorized thereto by resolution of its board of directors, a certified copy of which resolution under the seal of such company, shall be filed with each undertaking. Except as otherwise provided herein the provisions of article five of title six of chapter eight of the code of civil procedure are applicable to an undertaking given for the discharge of a lien on account of public improvement. [As amended by L. 1898, ch. 169 and L. 1902, ch. 37.]

§ 21. Building loan contract.—A contract for a building loan, either with or without the sale of land, and any modification thereof, must be in writing and duly acknowledged, and within ten days after its execution be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which any part of the land is situated, and the same shall not be filed in the register's office of any county. If not so filed the interest of each party to such contract in the real property affected thereby, is subject to the lien and claim of a person who shall thereafter file a notice of lien under this chapter. A modification of such contract shall not affect or impair the right or interest of a person, who, previous to the filing of such modification had furnished or contracted to furnish materials, or had performed or contracted to perform labor for the improvement of real property, but such right or interest shall be determined by the original contract. The county clerk is entitled to a fee of twenty cents for filing such a contract or modification. Such contracts and modifications thereof shall be indexed in a book provided for that purpose, in the alphabetical order of the names of the persons to whom such loans shall be made. [As amended by L. 1900, ch. 78.]

§ 22. Construction of article.—This article is to be construed liberally to secure the beneficial interests and purposes thereof. A substantial compliance with its several provisions shall be sufficient for the validity of a lien and to give jurisdiction to the courts to enforce the same.

§ 23. Enforcement of mechanics' liens.—The mechanics' liens specified in this article may be enforced against the property specified in the notice of lien and which is subject thereto and against any person liable for the debt upon which the lien is founded. The code of civil procedure regulates and provides for such enforcement.

§ 24. Priorities of liens for public improvements.—Persons having liens under contracts for public improvements standing in equal degrees as co-laborers or material men shall have priority according to the date of filing their respective liens; but in all cases laborers for daily or weekly wages shall have preference over all other lienors having liens arising under the same contracts pursuant to this article, without reference to the time when such laborers shall have filed their notice of lien. [Added by L. 1898, ch. 169.]

ARTICLE II.

Liens on Vessels.

Section 30. Liens on vessels.

31. Lien on vessels causing damage.
32. Notice of lien, when to be filed.
33. Duration of lien.
34. Assignment of lien.
35. Enforcement of lien.

Section 30. Liens on vessels.—A debt which is not a lien by the maritime law, and which amounts to fifty dollars or upwards, on a sea-going or ocean-bound vessel, or fifteen dollars or upwards on any other vessel shall be a lien upon such vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and shall be preferred to all other liens thereon, except mariners' wages, if such debt is contracted by the master, owner, charterer, builder or consignee of such ship or vessel, or by the agent of either of them, within this state, for either of the following purposes:

1. For work done or material or other articles furnished in this state for or towards the building, repairing, fitting, furnishing or equipping of such vessel.

2. For such provisions and stores, furnished within this state, as are fit and proper for the use of such vessel, at the time when they were furnished.

3. For wharfing and the expense of keeping such vessel in port, and for the expense of employing persons to watch her.

4. For loading or unloading such vessel, or for the advances made to procure necessaries therefor, or for the insurance thereof.

5. For towing or piloting such vessel, or for the insurance or premium of insurance of or on such vessel, or her freight; but no lien exists for a debt contracted for any purpose specified in this subdivision, unless it amounts to the sum of twenty-five dollars or more.

§ 31. Lien on vessel causing damage.—When a vessel shall have sustained damage by any other vessel through the negligence or wilful misconduct of the person navigating such vessel, to the extent of fifty dollars, the owner of the damaged vessel shall have a lien, unless a lien is given therefor by maritime law, upon the vessel causing the damage, her tackle, apparel and furniture, to the extent of such damage, which shall be deemed a debt for the purposes of this article, and the master, owner, agent or consignee of the damaged vessel may enforce such lien in like manner and with like effect as in case of other liens created by this article; but a notice of the lien must be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which such damage is sustained, and proceedings to enforce the lien must be commenced within ten days after the damage has been done, or such damage shall cease to be a lien upon such vessel. But if such damage is sustained in either of the counties of New York, Kings or Queens, such notice shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the city and county of New York, and if the vessel causing such damage is built, used or fitted for the navigation of any of the canals or lakes of the state, a certified copy of such notice shall be filed in the office of the comptroller as provided in the next section.

§ 32. Notice of lien, when to be filed.—Every debt specified in section thirty shall cease to be a lien upon such vessel, unless the lienor shall, within thirty days after it is contracted, file a notice of lien, containing the name of the vessel, the name of the owner, if known, the particulars of the debt and a statement of the amount claimed to be due from such vessel, and verified by the lienor, his legal representative, agent or assignee, to be true and correct. If the debt is based upon a written contract, a copy of such contract shall be attached to such notice. The notice shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the debt was contracted. But if the debt was contracted in either of the counties of New York, Kings or Queens, such notice shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the city and county of New York. If the vessel is built, used or fitted for the navigation of any of the canals or lakes of the state the lienor shall immediately after filing the notice in the county clerk's office, file a copy thereof in the office of the comptroller of the state, duly certified by the county clerk in whose office the original notice is filed.

§ 33. Duration of lien.—Every lien for a debt shall cease if the vessel navigates the Western or Northwestern lakes, or either of them, or the Saint Lawrence river, at the expiration of six months after the first of January next succeeding the time when the debt was contracted, and in case of any other vessel, at the expiration of twelve months after the debt was contracted. If, upon the expiration of the time herein limited in either of such cases, such vessel shall be absent from the port at which the debt is contracted, the lien shall continue until the expiration of thirty days after the return of such vessel to such port. If proceedings are instituted for the enforcement of the lien within the time herein limited, such lien shall continue until the termination of such proceedings.

§ 34. Assignment of lien.—A lien, a notice of which has been filed pursuant to the provisions of this article, may be assigned by a written instrument duly acknowledged and filed in the same place where the notice of the lien was filed. The assignment shall specify the debt upon which the lien is founded, the date of the filing of the notice thereof, and the assignee. Such assignment and the name of the assignee shall be entered by the clerk opposite the original entry of such lien, and after the filing of such assignment, but not otherwise, the assignee may enforce the lien in like manner as the assignor could have done.

§ 35. Enforcement of lien.—If a lien, created by virtue of this article, is founded upon a maritime contract, it can be enforced only by proceedings in the courts of the United States, and in any other case, in the courts of this state, in the manner provided by the code of civil procedure.

ARTICLE III.

Liens on Monuments, Gravestones and Cemetery Structures.

Section 40. Liens on monuments, gravestones and cemetery structures.

41. Notice of lien.
42. Proceedings to enforce liens.
43. Disposition of proceeds of sale.
44. Duties of officers of cemetery associations.

Section 40. Liens on monuments, gravestones and cemetery structures.—A person furnishing or placing in a cemetery or burial ground, a monument, gravestone, inclosure or other structure, has a lien thereon for the agreed price thereof or the part remaining unpaid, with interest from the time the amount was due, upon filing with the superintendent or person in charge of such cemetery or burial ground, a notice of lien as provided in this article.

§ 41. Notice of lien.—Such notice may be filed at any time after the completion of the work, but must be filed within one year after the agreed price for furnishing or placing such monument, gravestone, inclosure or other structure becomes due, and shall state that the lienor has a lien on such monument, gravestone, inclosure or structure for the purchase price thereof, or some unpaid part of such purchase price, with interest, specifying the amount agreed to be paid, and the amount unpaid, with a description of such monument, gravestone, inclosure or other structure, and the location of the plot upon which it stands, and the names of the persons with whom the agreement for the purchase and erection of the structure, or for the performance of such labor was made. The notice shall be signed and verified by the lienor. The lienor shall, within ten days after the filing of such notice, serve a copy personally, or by mail, upon the person with whom the agreement for the purchase and erection of such monument, gravestone, or other structure, or for the performance of labor thereon was made, and upon the owner of the lot upon which such monument, gravestone or other structure is erected, if the name and residence of such owner can, with reasonable diligence, be ascertained.

§ 42. Proceedings to enforce lien.—After the service of such notice, an action to recover the amount of the debt and to enforce a lien therefor may be maintained by the lienor against the person with whom the agreement was made, for the purchase and erection of such monument, gravestone, inclosure or other structure or for the performance of labor thereon. If such lienor succeeds in establishing his lien, the judgment recovered may authorize him to remove such monument, gravestone, inclosure or other structure from the burial-ground or cemetery and to sell the same at public auction to satisfy the amount of such judgment. Notice of the sale shall be published at least ten days before the time thereof, in a newspaper published in the town or city where such sale is to take place, and if no newspaper is published therein, in a newspaper nearest thereto. Such notice shall state the time and place of the sale, and shall describe the property to be sold. A copy of such notice shall be served personally or by mail at least ten days before such sale upon the persons served with the notice of lien as prescribed in the preceding section.

§ 43. Disposition of proceeds of sale.—The lienor shall, out of the proceeds of the sale, pay the expenses thereof, and the expenses of the removal of such monument, gravestone, inclosure or other structure from the cemetery or burial-ground, not exceeding fifty dollars, if a monument, and ten dollars, if a gravestone, inclosure or other structure, and retain out of such proceeds the amount due upon the judgment recovered in the action to enforce the lien, and the residue, if any, shall be forthwith paid to the judgment debtor.

§ 44. Duties of officers of cemetery associations.—The superintendent or other person in charge of a cemetery or burial-ground shall not permit the removal, alteration or inscription of a monument, gravestone, inclosure or other structure, against which a lien exists, after the notice of such lien has been filed and served as prescribed in this article, except pursuant to the terms of a judgment recovered in an action brought to enforce such lien. No officer of a cemetery association, or other person connected with a cemetery or burial-ground, shall hinder or obstruct the removal in a proper manner of any such monument, gravestone, inclosure or other structure pursuant to the terms of such judgment.

ARTICLE IV.

Liens for Labor on Stone.

Section 50. Lien for labor performed in quarrying, mining, dressing and cutting stone.

51. Duration and effect of lien.

52. Discharge of lien.

Section 50. Lien for labor performed in quarrying, mining, dressing and cutting stone.—A person employed in a quarry, mine, yard or dock at excavating, quarrying, mining, dressing or cutting sandstone, granite, cement stone, limestone, bluestone or marble, may have a lien on such sandstone, cement stone, granite, limestone, bluestone or marble, for the amount due for the labor expended thereon, upon filing a notice of lien in the office where a chattel mortgage upon such sandstone, cement stone, granite, limestone, bluestone or marble is required to be filed, as provided in this chapter. Such notice must be filed within thirty days after the completion of such labor and must state the amount due therefor, the name and residence of the lienor, and the name of the person for whom the labor was performed, the quantity and description of the sandstone, cement stone, granite, bluestone, limestone or marble against which the claim is made. Such notice of lien shall be endorsed, filed and entered by the proper officer, in the same manner as chattel mortgages, and the same fees shall be charged therefor. A copy of the notice so filed shall be served upon the owner of such sandstone, cement stone, granite, limestone, bluestone or marble or upon the person in charge of the quarry, mine, yards or docks wherein such services were performed within five days after the filing thereof. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 322.]

§ 51. Duration and effect of lien.—Such lien shall terminate unless an action is brought to enforce the same within three months after the date of filing such notice, as provided in the code of civil procedure for the enforcement of a lien upon a chattel. If the labor upon such sandstone, cement stone, granite, bluestone, limestone or marble is performed for a contractor under a contract with the owner of such quarry, mine, yard or dock, the owner shall not be liable to pay by reason of all the liens filed against such quarry, mine, yard or dock, a greater sum than the amount unpaid upon such contract at the time of filing such notices, or in case there is no contract, than the aggregate amount unpaid of the value of labor and services performed, pursuant to the preceding section. The lien created by this article shall not attach to any material which shall have become a part of any building or structure, or ceased to be the property of the person for whom such labor was performed. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 322.]

§ 52. Discharge of lien.—Such lien may be discharged by a payment of the amount due thereon, by a failure to bring an action to enforce the same within the time prescribed in the preceding section, by the written consent of the lienor, duly acknowledged and filed with the proper officer to the effect that such lien may be discharged, and by the owner of such sandstone, cement stone, granite, bluestone, limestone or marble filing with such officer an undertaking in an amount equal to twice the sum specified in the notice of lien, executed by one or more sureties who shall justify in such amount and approved by the officer with whom the notice of lien is filed, conditioned for the payment of the sum due such lienor, by reason of such lien, and the cost and expenses of enforcing the same. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 322.]

Section 60. Lien on mare and foal.

61. Statement and certificate.

62. Copy of statement and certificate to be filed.

63. Penalty.

Section 60. Lien on mare and foal.—On complying with the provisions of this article, the owner of a stallion shall have a lien on each mare served together with the foal of such mare from such service, for the amount agreed on at the time of service, or if no agreement was made, for the amount specified in the statement hereinafter required to be filed, if within one year after such service he files a notice of such lien in the same manner and place as chattel mortgages are required by law to be filed. Such notice of lien shall be in writing, specifying the person against whom the claim is made, the amount of the same and a description of the property upon which the lien is claimed, and such lien shall terminate at the end of eighteen months from the date of such filing, unless within that time an action is commenced for the enforcement thereof, as provided in the code of civil procedure for the foreclosure of a lien on chattels. [As amended by L. 1902, ch. 351.]

§ 61. Statement and certificate.—A person having the custody or control of a stallion and charging a fee for his services, shall, before advertising or offering such services to the public, file with the clerk of the county in which he resides or in which such stallion is kept for service, a written statement giving the name, age, description and pedigree, if known, and if not, stating that the same is unknown, of such stallion and the terms and conditions on which he will serve. On filing such statement, the county clerk shall record the same in a book provided for that purpose and issue a certificate to such person, that such statement has been so filed and recorded. He shall be entitled to receive ten cents per folio for recording such statement and for such certificate.

§ 62. Copy of statement and certificate to be posted.—The person having the custody and control of such stallion, shall post a written or printed copy of such statement and certificate in a conspicuous place in each locality in which said stallion is kept for service.

§ 63. Penalty.—A person who neglects or refuses to file and post such statement as required in this article, or falsely states the pedigree of such stallion in such statement, forfeits all fees for the services of such stallion and is liable to a person deceived or defrauded thereby for the damages sustained.

ARTICLE VI.

Other Liens on Personal Property.

Section 70. Artisans' lien on personal property.

- 71. Liens of hotel, inn, boarding and lodging house keepers.
- 72. Factors' liens on merchandise.
- 73. Warehouse liens.
- 74. Lien of bailee of animals.

Section 70. Artisans' lien on personal property.—A person who makes, alters, repairs or in any way enhances the value of an article of personal property, at the request or with the consent of the owner, has a lien on such article while lawfully in possession thereof, for his reasonable charges for the work done and materials furnished, and may retain possession thereof until such charges are paid.

§ 71. Liens of hotel, inn, boarding and lodging house keepers.—A keeper of a hotel, inn, boarding house or lodging house, except an emigrant lodging house, has a lien upon, while in possession, and may detain the baggage and other property brought upon their premises by a guest, boarder or lodger, for the proper charges due from him, on account of his accommodation, board and lodging, and such extras as are furnished at his request. If the keeper of such hotel, inn, boarding or lodging house knew that the property so brought upon his premises was not, when brought, legally in possession of such guest, boarder or lodger, or had notice that such property was not then the property of such guest, boarder or lodger, a lien thereon does not exist. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 380.]

§ 72. Factors' liens on merchandise.—A person, in whose name any merchandise shall be shipped, is deemed the true owner thereof so far as to entitle the consignee of such merchandise to a lien thereon.

1. For any money advanced or negotiable security given by such consignee, to or for the use of the person in whose name such shipment is made; and

2. For any money or negotiable security received by the person in whose name such shipment is made, to or for the use of such consignee.

Such lien does not exist where the consignee has notice, by the bill of lading or otherwise, when or before money is advanced or security is given by him, or when or before such money or security is received by the person in whose name the shipment is made, that such person is not the actual and bona fide owner thereof.

§ 73. Warehouse liens.—A warehouse company, warehouseman or other person lawfully engaged in the business of storing goods, wares and merchandise for hire has a lien on goods deposited and stored with him for his storage charges, and for moneys advanced by him for cartage, labor, weighing and coopering in relation to such goods, or other goods belonging to the same owner; and he may detain such goods until his lien is paid.

§ 74. Lien of bailee of animals.—A person keeping a livery stable, or boarding stable for animals, or pasturing or boarding one or more animals, or who in connection therewith keeps or stores any wagon, truck, cart, carriage, vehicle or harness, has a lien dependent upon the possession upon each animal kept, pastured or boarded by him, and upon any wagon, truck, cart, carriage, vehicle or harness, of any kind or description stored or kept, under an agreement with the owner thereof, whether such owner be a mortgagor remaining in possession or otherwise, for the sum due him for the care, keeping, boarding or pasturing of the animal, or for the keeping or storing of any wagon, truck, cart, carriage, vehicle and harness, under the agreement and may detain the animal or wagon, truck, cart, carriage, vehicle and harness accordingly, until such sum is paid. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 465.]

ARTICLE VII.

Enforcement of Liens on Personal Property by Sale.

Section 80. Sale of personal property to satisfy a lien.

81. Notice of sale.

82. Sale to be advertised.

83. Redemption before sale.

84. Disposition of proceeds.

85. Remedy not exclusive.

Section 80. Sale of personal property to satisfy a lien.—A lien against personal property, other than a mortgage on chattels, if in the legal possession of the lienor, may be satisfied by the public sale of such property according to the provisions of this article.

§ 81. Notice of sale.—Before such sale is held the lienor shall serve a notice upon the owner with due diligence within such county, if such owner can be found when such lien arose, if not then to the person for whose account the same is then held personally, provided such service can be made with due diligence within the county where such lien arose, but if such person cannot with due diligence be found within such county, then such notice shall be served by mailing it to him at his last known place of residence, or to his last known post office address. A like notice shall be served in the same way upon any person who shall have given to the lienor notice of an interest in the property subject to the lien. Such notice shall contain a statement of the following facts:

First. The nature of the debt or the agreement under which the lien arose, with an itemized statement of the claim and the time when due;

Second. A brief description of the personal property against which the lien exists;

Third. The estimated value of such property;

Fourth. The amount of such lien, at the date of the notice.

It shall also require such owner or person to pay the amount of such lien, on or before a day mentioned therein, not less than ten days from the service thereof, and shall state the time when and place where such property will be sold, if such amount is not paid. If the agreement on which the lien is based provides for the continuous care of property the lienor is also entitled to receive all sums which may accrue under the agreement, subsequent to the notice and prior to payment or a sale of the property; and the notice shall contain a statement that such additional sum is demanded. Such notice shall be verified by the lienor to the effect that the lien upon such property is valid, that the debt upon which such lien is founded is due and has not been paid and that the facts stated in such notice are true to the best of his knowledge and belief. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 369.]

§ 82. Sale to be advertised.—Each sale of personal property to satisfy a lien thereon shall be at public auction to the highest bidder, and shall be held in the city or town where the lien was acquired. After the time for the payment of the amount of the lien specified in the notice required to be served by the preceding section, notice of such sale, describing the property to be sold, and stating the name of the owner or person for whose account the same is then held and the time and place of such sale, shall be published once a week, for two consecutive weeks, in a newspaper published in the town or city where such sale is to be held, and such sale shall be held not less than fifteen days from the first publication; if there be no newspaper published in such town, such notice shall be posted at least ten days before such sale in not less than six conspicuous places therein. [As amended by L. 1899, ch. 369.]

§ 83. Redemption before sale.—At any time before such property is so sold, the owner thereof may redeem the same by paying to the lienor the amount due on account of the lien, and whatever legitimate expenses have been incurred at the time of such payment in serving the notice and advertising the sale as required in this article. Upon making such payment, the owner of such property is entitled to the possession thereof.

§ 84. Disposition of proceeds.—Of the proceeds of such sale, the lienor shall retain an amount sufficient to satisfy his lien, and the expenses of advertisement and sale. The balance of such proceeds, if any, shall be held by the lienor subject to the demand of the owner, or his assignee or legal representative, and a notice that such balance is so held shall be served personally or by mail upon the owner of the property sold. If such balance is not claimed by the owner or his assignee or legal representative within thirty days from the day of sale, such balance shall be deposited with the treasurer or chamberlain of the city or village, or the supervisor of the town, where such sale was held. There shall be filed with such deposit the affidavit of the lienor, stating the name and place of residence of the owner of the property sold, if known, the articles sold, the prices obtained therefor, that the notice required by this article was duly served and how served upon such owner, and that such sale was legally and how advertised. There shall also be filed therewith a copy of the notice served upon the owner of the property and of the notice of sale published or posted as required by this article. The officer with whom such balance is deposited shall credit the same to the owner of the property, and pay the same to such owner, his assignee or legal representative, on demand and satisfactory evidence of identity. If such balance remains in the possession of such officer for a period of five years, unclaimed by the person legally entitled thereto, it shall be transferred to the general funds of the town, village or city, and be applied and used as other moneys belonging to such town, village or city.

§ 85. Remedy not exclusive.—The provisions of this article do not preclude any other remedy by action or otherwise, now existing, for the enforcement of a lien against personal property, or bar the right to recover so much of the debt as shall not be paid by the proceeds of the sale of the property.

ARTICLE VIII.

Chattel Mortgages.

Section 90. Chattel mortgage to be filed.

91. Corporate mortgages against real and personal property.

92. Where filed.

93. Filing and entry.

94. Fees.

95. Mortgage invalid after one year, unless statement is filed.

96. Duration of lien of mortgage on canal craft.

97. Copies to be evidence of certain facts.

98. Mortgage, how discharged of record.

Section 90. Chattel mortgage to be filed.—Every mortgage or conveyance intended to operate as a mortgage of goods and chattels or of any canal boat, steam tug, scow or other craft, or the appurtenances thereto, navigating the canals of the state, which is not accompanied by an immediate delivery, and followed by an actual and continued change of possession of the things mortgaged, is absolutely void as against the creditors of the mortgagor, and as against subsequent purchasers and mortgagees in good faith, unless the mortgage, or a true copy thereof, is filed as directed in this article. [As amended by L. 1900, ch. 248.]

§ 91. Corporate mortgages against real and personal property.—Mortgages creating a lien upon real and personal property, executed by a corporation as security for the payment of bonds issued by such corporation, or by any telegraph, telephone or electric light corporation, and recorded as a mortgage of real property in each county where such property is located or through which the line of such telegraph, telephone or electric light corporation runs, need not be filed or refiled as chattel mortgages.

§ 92. Where filed.—An instrument, or a true copy thereof, if intended to operate as a mortgage of a canal boat, steam tug, scow or other craft, or of the appurtenances thereto, navigating the canals of this state, must be filed in the office of the comptroller, and need not be filed elsewhere. Every other chattel mortgage, or an instrument intended to operate as such, or a true copy thereof, must be filed in the town or city where the mortgagor, if a resident of the state, resides at the time of the execution thereof, and if not a resident in the city or town where the property mortgaged is, at the time of the execution of the mortgage. If there is more than one mortgagor, the mortgage, or a certified copy thereof, must be filed in each city or town within the state where each mortgagor resides at the time of the execution thereof. In the city of New York, such instrument must be filed as follows, namely: In the borough of Brooklyn in said city, such instrument shall be filed in the office of the register of the county of Kings; in the borough of Queens in said city, the office of the clerk of Queens county; in the borough of Richmond in said city, in the office of the clerk of the county of Richmond, and in the borough of Manhattan and the borough of the Bronx in said city, in the office of the register of the city and county of New York. In every other city or town of the state, in the office of the city or town clerk, unless there is a county clerk's office in such city or town, in which case it must be filed therein. If the chattels mortgaged are in the city of New York at the time of the execution of the mortgage, the mortgage or a true copy thereof must be filed in the county where the mortgagor alleges to reside at the time of the execution of the mortgage, and in the county where the property is situated. [As amended by L. 1900, ch. 248 and L. 1901, ch. 219.]

§ 93. Filing and entry.—Such officers shall file every such instrument presented to them for that purpose, and endorse thereon its number and time of its receipt. They shall enter in a book provided for that purpose, in separate columns, the names of all the parties to each mortgage so filed, arranged in alphabetical order, under the head of "Mortgagors" and "Mortgagees," the number of such mortgage or copy and the date of the filing thereof; and if the mortgage be upon a craft navigating the canals, and filed in the office of the comptroller, the name of the craft shall also be inserted. In the city of New York such officers shall in addition to the entry aforesaid enter in another book provided for that purpose a statement of the premises in which the chattels mortgaged are contained, arranged in alphabetical order, under the name of the street or avenue where the premises are situated and giving the number of such mortgage or copy and the date of the filing thereof. In case no street or avenue is mentioned in the description, in the mortgage or copy, of the premises in which the chattels are contained, then a statement of such premises shall be entered under the title of "Miscellaneous." [As amended by L. 1900, ch. 248 and L. 1902, ch. 64.]

§ 94. Fees.—The several clerks and registers are entitled to receive for services hereunder the following fees: For filing each instrument, or copy, six cents; for entering the same as aforesaid, six cents; for searching for each paper, six cents; and the like fees for certified copies of such instruments or copies as are allowed by law to clerks of counties for copies and certificates of records kept by them. The comptroller is entitled to receive the following fees for services performed under this article, for the use of the state: For filing each instrument or copy and entering the same, twenty-five cents; for searching for each paper, twenty-five cents; and the like fees for certified copies of such instruments or copies, as are allowed by law to be charged by the comptroller for copies and certificates of records kept in his office. No officer is required to file or enter any such paper or furnish a copy thereof, until his lawful fees are paid.

§ 95. Mortgage invalid after one year unless statement is filed.—A chattel mortgage, except as otherwise provided in this article, shall be invalid as against creditors of the mortgagor, and against subsequent purchasers or mortgagees in good faith, after the expiration of the first or any succeeding term of one year, reckoning from the time of the first filing, unless,

1. Within thirty days next preceding the expiration of each such term, a statement containing a description of such mortgage, the names of the parties, the time when and place where filed, the interest of the mortgagee or of any person who has succeeded to his interest in the property claimed by virtue thereof, or

2. A copy of such mortgage and its endorsements, together with a statement attached thereto or endorsed thereon, showing the interest of the mortgagee or of any person who has succeeded to his interest in the mortgage, is filed in the proper office in the city or town where the mortgagor then resided, if he is then a resident of the town or city where the mortgage or a copy thereof or such statement was last filed; if not such resident, but a resident of the state, a true copy of such mortgage together with such statement, shall be filed in the proper office of the town or city where he then resides; and if not a resident of the state, then in the proper office of the city or town where the property so mortgaged was at the time of the execution of the mortgage. Where the chattels mortgaged were located in the city of New York, at the time of the execution of the mortgage, a copy of such mortgage and its endorsements, together with a statement attached thereto or endorsed thereon, showing the interest of the mortgagee or of any person who has succeeded to his interest in the mortgage must be filed in the same office where the original mortgage or a copy thereof was filed at the time of the execution of the same. [As amended by L. 1901, ch. 219.]

§ 96. Duration of lien of mortgage on canal craft.—Every mortgage upon a canal boat or other craft navigating the canals of this state, filed as provided in this article, shall be valid as against the creditors of the mortgagor and against subsequent purchasers or mortgagees in good faith, as long as the debt which the mortgage secures is enforceable. From the time of filing, every such mortgage shall have preference and priority over all other claims and liens, not existing at the time of such filing.

§ 97. Copies to be evidence of certain facts.—A copy of any such original instrument, or of a copy thereof, including any statement relating thereto, certified by the officer with whom the same is filed, may be received in evidence, but only of the fact that such instrument, or copy, or statement was received and filed according to the endorsement thereon; and the original endorsement upon such instrument or copy may be received in evidence only of the facts stated in such endorsement.

§ 98. Mortgage, how discharged of record.—Upon the payment or satisfaction of a chattel mortgage, the mortgagee, his assignee or legal representative upon the request of the mortgagor or of any person interested in the mortgaged property, must sign and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such payment or satisfaction. The officer with whom the mortgage, or a copy thereof is filed, must, on receipt of such certificate, file the same, in his office, and write the word "discharged" in the book where the mortgage is entered, opposite the entry thereof, and the mortgage is thereby discharged.

ARTICLE IX.

Contracts for the Conditional Sale of Goods and Chattels.

Section 110. Definitions.

- 111. Conditional sale of railroad equipment and rolling stock.
- 112. Conditions and reservations in contracts for the sale of goods and chattels.
- 113. Where contract to be filed.
- 114. Endorsement, entry, refiling and discharge of conditional contracts.
- 115. Preceding sections not to apply to certain articles.
- 116. Sale of property retaken by vendor.
- 117. Notice of sale.
- 118. Disposition of proceeds.

Section 110. Definitions.—The term "conditional vendor," when used in this article, means the person contracting to sell goods and chattels upon condition that the ownership thereof is to remain in such person, until such goods and chattels are fully paid for or until the occurrence of any future event or contingency; the term "conditional vendee," when so used, means the person to whom such goods and chattels are so sold.

§ 111. Conditional sale of railroad equipment and rolling stock.—Whenever any railroad equipment and rolling stock is sold, leased or loaned under a contract which provides that the title to such property, notwithstanding the use and possession thereof by the vendee, lessee or bailee, shall remain in the vendor, lessor or bailor, until the terms of the contract as to the payment of installments, amounts or rentals payable, or the performance of other obligations thereunder, are fully complied with and that title to such property shall pass to the vendee, lessee or other bailee on full payment therefor, such contract shall be invalid as to any subsequent judgment creditor of or purchaser from such vendee, lessee or bailee for a valuable consideration, without notice, unless

1. Such contract is in writing, duly acknowledged and recorded in the book in which real estate mortgages are recorded in the office of the county clerk or register of the county in which is located the principal office or place of business of such vendee, lessee or bailee; and unless

2. Each locomotive or car so sold, leased or loaned, has the name of the vendor, lessor or bailor, or of the assignee of such vendor, lessor or bailor, plainly marked upon both sides thereof, followed by the word owner, lessor, bailor or assignee, as the case may be.

§ 112. Conditions and reservations in contracts for sale of goods and chattels.—Except as otherwise provided in this article, all conditions and reservations in a contract for the conditional sale of goods and chattels, accompanied by immediate delivery and continued possession of the thing contracted to be sold, to the effect that the ownership of such goods and chattels is to remain in the conditional vendor or in a person other than the conditional vendee, until they are paid for, or until the occurrence of a future event or contingency shall be void as against subsequent purchasers, pledgees or mortgagees in good faith, and as to them the sale shall be deemed absolute, unless such contract of sale, containing such conditions and reservations, or a true copy thereof be filed as directed in this article.

§ 113. Where contract to be filed.—Such contracts shall be filed in the city or town where the conditional vendee resides, if he resides within the state at the time of the execution thereof; and if not, in the city or town where such property is at such time. Such contract shall be filed, in the city of New York, as follows, to wit: in the borough of Brooklyn in said city such instrument shall be filed in the office of the county* of Kings; in the borough of Queens in said city, in the office of the clerk of Queens county; in the borough of Richmond in said city, in the office of the clerk of the county of Richmond; and in the borough of Manhattan and the borough of the Bronx in said city, in the office of the register of the city and county of New York; in every other city or town of the state, in the office of the city or town clerk unless there is a county clerk's office in such city or town, when it shall be filed in such office. [As amended by L. 1900, ch. 248.]

§ 114. Endorsement, entry, refiling and discharge of conditional contracts.—The provisions of the preceding article relating to chattel mortgages apply to the endorsement, entry, refiling and discharge of contracts for the conditional sale of goods and chattels. The officers with whom such contracts are filed shall enter the future contingency or event required to occur before the ownership of such goods and chattels shall pass from the vendor to the vendee, and the amount due upon such contract and the time when due. The name of the conditional vendor shall be entered in the column of "mortgagees" and the name of the conditional vendee in the column of "mortgagors." The officers performing services under this article are entitled to receive the same fees as for like services relating to chattel mortgages.

§ 115. Preceding sections not to apply to certain articles.—The preceding sections of this article do not apply to the conditional sale of household goods, law books, law blanks and law office supplies, pianos, organs, safes, scales, butchers' and meat market tools and fixtures, wood cutting machinery, engines, dynamos, boilers, portable furnaces, boilers for heating purposes, threshing machines, horse-powers, mowing machines, reapers, harvesters, grain drills and attachments, dairy sizes of centrifugal cream separators, coaches, hearses, carriages, buggies, phaetons and other vehicles, bicycles, tricycles and other devices for locomotion by human power, if the contract for the sale thereof is executed in duplicate, and one duplicate delivered to the purchaser. [As amended by L. 1898, ch. 354.]

§ 116. Sale of property retaken by vendor.—Whenever articles are sold upon the condition that the title thereto shall remain in the vendor, or in some other person than the vendee, until the payment of the purchase price, or until the occurrence of a future event or contingency, and the same are retaken by the vendor, or his successor in interest, they shall be retained for a period of thirty days from the time of such retaking, and during such period the vendee or his successor in interest, may comply with the terms of such contract, and thereupon receive such property. After the expiration of such period, if such terms are not complied with, the vendor, or his successor in interest, may cause such articles to be sold at public auction. Unless such articles are so sold within thirty days after the expiration of such period, the vendee or his successor in interest may recover of the vendor the amount paid on such articles by such vendee or his successor in interest under the contract for the conditional sale thereof. [As amended by L. 1900, ch. 762.]

§ 117. Notice of sale.—Not less than fifteen days before such sale, a printed or written notice shall be served personally upon the vendee, or his successor in interest, if he is within the county where the sale is to be held; and if not within such county, or he can not be found therein, such notice must be mailed to him at his last known place of residence.

Such notice shall state:

1. The terms of the contract.
2. The amount unpaid thereon.
3. The amount of expenses of storage.
4. The time and place of the sale, unless such amounts are sooner paid.

§ 118. Disposition of proceeds.—Of the proceeds of such sale, the vendor or his successor in interest may retain the amount due upon his contract, and the expenses of storage and of sale; the balance thereof shall be held by the vendor or his successor in interest, subject to the demand of the vendee or his successor in interest, and a notice that such balance is so held shall be served personally or by mail upon the vendee or his successor in interest. If such balance is not called for within thirty days from the time of sale, it shall be deposited with the treasurer or chamberlain of the city or village, or the supervisor of the town where such sale is held, and there shall be filed therewith a copy of the notice served upon the vendee or his successor in interest and a verified statement of the amount unpaid upon the contract, expenses of storage and of sale and the amount of such balance. The officer with whom such balance was deposited shall credit the vendee or his successor in interest with the amount thereof and pay the same to him on demand after sufficient proof of identity. If such balance remains in possession of such officer for a period of five years, unclaimed by the person legally entitled thereto, it shall be transferred to the funds of the town, village or city, and be applied and used as other moneys belonging to such town, village or city.

§ 42. Compensation of members of board.—The master and journeymen plumbers serving as members of such board shall severally be paid the rate of five dollars per day for each day's service when actually engaged in the performance of the duties pertaining to the office; but such compensation shall not exceed five dollars per month in a city of the third class, nor the sum of ten dollars per month in a city of the second class, nor the sum of twenty dollars per month in a city of the first class. It shall be the duty of such ex officio members of the board of examiners to discharge their duties as members of such board without compensation therefor.

§ 43. Qualifications.—All members of such board shall be citizens and actual residents of the cities in which they are appointed.

§ 44. Powers and duties.—The several examining boards of plumbers shall have power and it shall be their duty:

1. To meet at stated intervals in their respective cities; they shall also meet whenever the board of health of such city or the mayor thereof shall in writing request them so to do.

2. To have jurisdiction over and to examine all persons desiring or intending to engage in the trade, business or calling of plumbing as employing plumbers in the city in which such board shall be appointed, with the power of examining persons applying for certificates of competency as such employing or master plumbers or as inspectors of plumbing to determine their fitness and qualifications for conducting the business of master plumbers or to act as inspectors of plumbing, and to issue certificates of competency to all such persons who shall have passed a satisfactory examination before such board and shall be by it determined to be qualified for conducting the business as employing or master plumbers or competent to act as inspectors of plumbing.

3. To formulate, in conjunction with the local board of health of the city, or an officer, board or body performing the duties of a board of health, a code of rules regulating the work of plumbing and drainage in such city, including the materials, workmanship and manner of executing such work, and from time to time to add to, amend or alter the same.

4. To charge and collect from each person applying for examination the sum of five dollars for each examination made by such board, and all moneys so collected shall be paid over by the board monthly to the chamberlain or treasurer of such city in which said board shall be appointed.

§ 45. Examinations; conducting business without certificate prohibited.—A person desiring or intending to conduct the trade, business or calling of a plumber or of plumbing in a city of this state as employing or master plumber shall be required to submit to an examination before such examining board of plumbers as to his experience and qualifications for such trade, business or calling; and it shall not be lawful in any city of this state for a person to conduct such trade, business or calling unless he shall have first obtained a certificate of competency from such board of the city in which he conducts or proposes to conduct such business.

§ 46. Registration, when required.—Every employing or master plumber carrying on his trade, business or calling in any city of this state, shall register his name and address at the office of the board of health of the city in which he shall conduct such business, under such rules as the respective boards of health of each of the cities shall prescribe, and thereupon he shall be entitled to receive a certificate of such registration; provided, however, that such employing or master plumber shall at the time of applying for such registration hold a certificate of competency from an examining board of plumbers.

§ 47. Cancellation of registration; notice.—Such registration may be canceled by such board of health for a violation of the rules and regulations for the plumbing and drainage of such city duly adopted and enforced therein, after a hearing had before such board of health and upon a prior notice of not less than ten days, stating the ground of complaint and served upon the person charged with the violation, but such revocation shall not be operative unless concurred in by the local board of examiners. It shall not be lawful for any person to engage in or carry on the trade, business or calling of an employing or master plumber in any of the cities of this state, unless his name and address shall have been registered in the city in which he carries on or conducts such business.

§ 48. Inspectors; qualifications; notice.—The local board of health or the commissioner or commissioners of the board of health, or the health department thereof, as the case may be, shall detail, designate or appoint an inspector or inspectors of plumbing, subject, however, to the provisions or limitations of law regulating the appointment of such inspectors by such commissioner or commissioners or board or department of health of such city. All inspectors of plumbing who are detailed, designated or appointed, shall be practical plumbers and shall not be engaged directly or indirectly in the business of plumbing during the period of their appointment. They shall be citizens and actual residents of the city in which they are appointed, and before entering upon the discharge of their duties as such inspectors they shall each be required to obtain a certificate of competency from said examining board. They shall be entitled to receive compensation not exceeding five dollars per day for each day of actual service, to be fixed by the board, commissioner or department making such appointment.

§ 49. Duties of inspectors; reports.—The inspector or inspectors of plumbing appointed under the provisions of the preceding sections, in addition to the duties prescribed by law and those which may be enjoined or required by the commissioner of health, the board of health or the health department of the city, in which they shall be appointed,* shall be to inspect the construction and alteration of all plumbing work performed in such city, and to report in writing the results of such inspection to such commissioner of health, or the board of health or the health department of their respective cities. They shall also report in like manner any person engaged in or carrying on the business of employing plumber, without having the certificate hereinbefore provided.

*So in original.

§ 50. Expiration and renewals of certificates and licenses.—All certificates of registration issued under the provisions of the preceding sections and all licenses authorizing connections with street sewers, or water mains shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of the year in which they shall be issued, and may be renewed within thirty days preceding such expiration, such renewals to be for one year from the first day of January in each year.

§ 51. Notice of violation of rules.—Whenever any inspector or other person reports a violation of any of such rules and regulations for plumbing and drainage, or a deviation from any officially approved plan or specification for plumbing and drainage filed with any board or department, the local board of health shall first serve a notice of the violation thereof upon the master plumber doing the work, if a registered plumber.

§ 52. Notice, how served; proceedings when violations not removed.—Such notice may be served personally or by mail, and if by mail it may be addressed to such master plumber at the address registered by him with such local board of health, but the failure of a master plumber to register will relieve any board of health from the requirement of giving notice of violation. Unless the violation is removed within three days after the day of serving or mailing such notice, exclusive of the day of serving or mailing, the board of health may proceed according to law.

§ 53. Plumbing and drainage to be executed according to rules.—The plumbing and drainage of all buildings, both public and private, in each of the cities of this state, shall be executed in accordance with the rules and regulations adopted by the local board of examining plumbers in conjunction with the board of health for plumbing and drainage; and all repairs and alterations in the plumbing and the drainage of all buildings heretofore constructed shall also be executed in accordance with such rules and regulations, but this section shall not be construed to repeal any existing provisions of law requiring plans for the plumbing and drainage of new buildings to be filed with any local board of health, and be previously approved in writing by such board of health, and be executed in accordance therewith, except that in case of any conflict with such plans, rules and regulations of the board of examiners, the latter shall govern.

§ 54. Office room; expenses a city charge.—Each of such examining boards of plumbers shall have power to procure suitable quarters for the transaction of business, to provide the necessary books and stationery, and to employ a clerk to keep such books and record the transactions of such board. The board of estimate and apportionment or the common council of the city as the case may be shall annually insert in their tax levy a sufficient sum to meet all the expenditures incurred under the provisions of this article. The expenses incurred by the several examining boards of plumbers in the execution and performance of the duties imposed by this article shall be a charge upon the respective cities and shall be audited, levied, collected and paid in the same manner as other city charges are audited, levied, collected and paid.

§ 55. Violations, how punished.—Any person violating any of the provisions of this article, or any rules or regulations of the board of health or of the examining board of plumbers in any city regulating the plumbing and drainage of buildings in such city, shall be guilty of a misde-

§ 56. Issue of licenses to connect with sewers and water mains restricted.—The commissioner of public works of any city, or the officer or officers acting in like capacity in any of the cities of this state, and having charge of the sewers and water mains therein, shall not issue a license to any one to connect with the sewers or with the water mains of such cities unless such person has obtained and shall produce a certificate of competency from the examining board of such city.

§ 57. Article limited.—Nothing in this article shall affect or supersede any provision of chapter eight hundred and three of the laws of eighteen hundred and ninety-six, relating to plumbing in the city of New York.

OPINION OF PROF. CHARLES A. COLLIN AS TO HOW TO INCORPORATE LABOR ORGANIZATIONS.

Prof. Charles A. Collin, lately one of the commissioners of Statutory Revision, has, by special request, furnished to the bureau the following information as to the incorporation of labor organizations for benevolent and protective purposes:

“Previous to 1895, the incorporation of workingmen’s unions was authorized by the Laws of 1871, chapter 875. This act was repealed by the Membership Corporations Law (Laws of 1895, chapter 559), the provisions of which, by section thirty thereof, are made applicable to the incorporation of workingmen’s unions. The Membership Corporations Law and the General Corporations Law are to be read together for the purpose of ascertaining the statutory provisions now regulating the incorporation and corporate administration of workingmen’s unions, and together they furnish substantially all of the statutory law upon this subject.

“Incorporation is effected by filing certificates of incorporation in the offices of the Secretary of State and of the county clerk of the county in which the operations of the corporation are to be principally conducted. The certificates may be executed in duplicate original, each charter member signing and acknowledging both originals, and a justice of the Supreme Court approving both originals, and by filing one of the originals in each of the two offices aforesaid; or, instead, by executing one original only and filing that in the office of the Secretary of State and filing a certified copy thereof in the office of the county clerk. When the filing is completed, the corporation is born.

"There must be at least five charter members signing the certificate and as many more may sign as is desired. The signers may be either men or women, but must all be over twenty-one years of age; at least two-thirds of them must be citizens of the United States, and at least one of them must be a resident of this State.

"The certificate must state:

"(1) The particular objects for which the corporation is to be formed. In general, the objects to be stated may be any object other than the conduct of a business for the purposes of profit, except that the objects stated must not amount to co-operative insurance, or for building or mutual loan purposes. If co-operative insurance or mutual loan are among the objects proposed, incorporation must be under the insurance or banking laws.

"(2) The name of the proposed corporation. The name chosen must not be the name of any existing corporation, nor so similar to the name of any existing corporation as to be calculated to deceive. This does not prevent the name being exactly the same except as to difference of locality or number. For instance, 'The Boilermakers' Union of Brooklyn' is not prohibited because there exists a corporation whose name is 'The Boilermakers' Union of Buffalo.' Neither would the name 'The Boilermakers' Union of Brooklyn, No. 21,' be prohibited because there already existed a corporation whose name was 'The Boilermakers' Union of Brooklyn, No. 20.'

"(3) The territory in which its operations are to be principally conducted. Such territory may either be a city, village, town, county, the entire State, or the United States and England, or one or more specified foreign countries.

"(4) The town, village, city or county in this State, in which its principal office is to be located, if it be then practicable to fix such location. This does not require the actual location of an office in a room or building, nor the occupation or the renting of a building or of any room therein for the purposes of an office. The term 'office of a corporation,' as used in the statutes, means either its principal office within the State or the town, village, city or county within the State in which its operations are to be principally conducted, and the designation of any such town, village, city or county will be sufficient designation of the principal office. In other words, the general headquarters of the union is its principal office within the meaning of the statute.

"(5) The number of its directors, which must be at least three and not more than thirty.

"(6) The names and places of residence of the persons to be its directors until its first annual meeting. At least two of the directors so named must be residents of this State.

"(7) The times for holding its annual meeting.

"(8) The certificate may contain any other provision for the conduct of the affairs of the corporation or any limitation upon its powers or upon the powers of its directors which does not exempt them from the performance of any obligation or duty imposed by law.

"The certificate must be acknowledged by each signer before a notary public, justice of the peace, commissioner of deeds, judge, mayor, recorder of the city or other officer authorized to take the acknowledgements of deeds, and must be approved by a justice of the Supreme Court before it can be filed.

"The certificate may be in the following form:

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION OF TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION NO. — OF THE CITY OF —.

"We, the undersigned, all being of full age, two-thirds of us being citizens of the United States, and one of us being a resident of the State of New York, desiring to form a membership corporation under and in pursuance to the laws of the State of New York for the purposes hereinafter set forth, do hereby certify:

"First—The purposes for which such corporation is to be formed are the protection and improvement of its members in their trade or calling as printers; the intellectual, moral and spiritual improvement of its members; the assistance of the members who may be out of work or otherwise needy or deserving; and the payment of the funeral expenses of deceased members.

"Second—The name of the proposed corporation shall be 'Typographical Union No. — of the city of —.'

"Third—The territory in which the operations of such corporation are to be principally conducted is the city of —.

"Fourth—The principal office of such corporation is to be located in the city of —.

"Fifth—The number of directors of such corporation shall be twelve.

"Sixth—The names and places of residence of the persons to be directors of such corporation until its first annual meeting are as follows: John Smith, residing at No. 24 — street, —, N. Y. [Here insert the names and residences of the other directors.]

"Seventh—The time for holding the annual meetings of such corporation shall be the second Tuesday of January of each year at eight o'clock p. m.

"In witness whereof, we have hereunto signed our names this 20th day of July, 1895.
JOHN SMITH.

[Here follow the names of the other signers.]

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY OF _____, ss.:

"On this 20th day of July, 1895, before me personally appeared John Smith [here add the names of the other signers], to me known to be the persons described in and who executed the foregoing certificate, and they severally acknowledged to me that they executed the same.

JAMES BROWN,
Notary Public.

"I approve the foregoing certificate.

PETER V. MCLENNAN,
Justice of the Supreme Court.

"The foregoing form of certificate is, of course, to be changed to suit particular trades or localities.

"The most convenient way will probably be to have two copies of the certificate drawn and have each signer sign and acknowledge both copies and the judge approve both copies, so that each will be an original, and one original can be filed in the office of the Secretary of State at Albany and the other original filed in the office of the county clerk. But one original only may be executed and filed in the office of the Secretary of State and a certified copy thereof filed in the county clerk's office.

"If a labor organization be already formed but not incorporated, and it is desired to incorporate it so that all its property and its members will be the property and the members of the corporation, proceedings should be had under section five of the Membership Corporations Law, to wit: 'The unanimous vote of all its members present and voting at a regular or a regularly called meeting thereof, may authorize its directors to incorporate.' Whereupon, the directors so authorized may execute and file a certificate of incorporation in the same manner as above set forth for the incorporation of an entirely new organization.

"The certificate of incorporation, together with the General Corporation Law and the Membership Corporations Law, may properly be termed the charter of the corporation. Its by-laws are to be prepared by the members of the corporation, to wit: the signers of the certificate, or by the directors named in the certificate if the members do not choose to make the by-laws. The by-laws should provide for the election of new members, terms of membership, the grounds for expulsion of members, dues of members, if any, etc. The by-laws may also provide for the classification of the directors, as for instance, that twelve directors shall be divided into three classes of four each, so that four shall hold for three years, four for two years and four for one year, and after the first board is elected, four will be elected annually for a term of three years."

2. By reason of the negligence of any person in the service of the employer entrusted with and exercising superintendence whose sole or principal duty is that of superintendence, or in the absence of such superintendent, of any person acting as superintendent with the authority or consent of such employer; the employee, or in case the injury results in death, the executor or administrator of a deceased employee who has left him surviving a husband, wife or next of kin, shall have the same right of compensation and remedies against the employer as if the employee had not been an employee of nor in the service of the employer nor engaged in his work. The provisions of law relating to actions for causing death by negligence, so far as the same are consistent with this act, shall apply to an action brought by an executor or administrator of a deceased employee suing under the provisions of this act.

§ 2. No action for recovery of compensation for injury or death under this act shall be maintained unless notice of the time, place and cause of the injury is given to the employer within one hundred and twenty days and the action is commenced within one year after the occurrence of the accident causing the injury or death. The notice required by this section shall be in writing and signed by the person injured or by some one in his behalf, but if from physical or mental incapacity it is impossible for the person injured to give notice within the time provided in said section, he may give the same within ten days after such incapacity is removed. In case of his death without having given such notice, his executor or administrator may give such notice within sixty days after his appointment, but no notice under the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be invalid or insufficient solely by reason of any inaccuracy in stating the time, place or cause of the injury if it be shown that there was no intention to mislead and that the party entitled to notice was not in fact misled thereby. The notice required by this section shall be served on the employer or if there is more than one employer, upon one of such employers, and may be served by delivering the same to or at the residence or place of business of the person on whom it is to be served. The notice may be served by post by letter addressed to the person on whom it is to be served, at his last known place of residence or place of business and if served by post shall be deemed to have been served at the time when the letter containing the same would be delivered in the ordinary course of the post. When the employer is a corporation, notice shall be served by delivering the same or by sending it by post addressed to the office or principal place of business of such corporation.

§ 3. An employee by entering upon or continuing in the service of the employer shall be presumed to have assented to the necessary risks of the occupation or employment and no others. The necessary risks of the occupation or employment shall, in all cases arising after this act takes effect be considered as including those risks, and those only, inherent in the nature of the business which remain after the employer has exercised due care in providing for the safety of his employees, and has complied with the laws affecting or regulating such business or occupation for the greater safety of such employees. In an action maintained for the recovery of damages for personal injuries to an employee received after this act takes effect, owing to any cause for which the employer would otherwise be liable, the fact that the employee continued in the service of the employer in the same place and course of employment after the discovery by such employee, or after he had been informed of, the danger of personal injury therefrom, shall not, as a matter of law, be considered as an assent by such employee to the existence or continuance of such risks of personal injury therefrom, or as negligence contributing to such injury. The question whether the employee understood and assumed the risk of such injury, or was guilty of contributory negligence, by his continuance in the same place and course of employment with knowledge of the risk of injury shall be one of fact, subject to the usual powers of the court in a proper case to set aside a verdict rendered contrary to the evidence. An employee, or his legal representative, shall not be entitled under this act to any right of compensation or remedy against the employer in any case where such employee knew of the defect or negligence which caused the injury and failed, within a reasonable time, to give, or cause to be given, information thereof to the employer, or to some person superior to himself in the service of the employer who had intrusted to him some general superintendence, unless it shall appear on the trial that such defect or negligence was known to such employer, or superior person, prior to such injuries to the employee.

§ 4. An employer who shall have contributed to an insurance fund created and maintained for the mutual purpose of indemnifying an employee for personal injuries, for which compensation may be recovered under this act, or to any relief society or benefit fund created under the laws of this state, may prove in mitigation of damages recoverable by an employee under this act such proportion of the pecuniary benefit which has been received by such employee from such fund or society on account of such contribution of employer, as the contribution of such employer to such fund or society bears to the whole contribution thereto.

§ 5. Every existing right of action for negligence or to recover damages for injuries resulting in death is continued and nothing in this act contained shall be construed as limiting any such right of action, nor shall the failure to give the notice provided for in section two of this act be a bar to the maintenance of a suit upon any such existing right of action.

§ 6. This act shall take effect July first, nineteen hundred and two.

§ 3. The mayor may require from each person licensed, or applying for a license under this act, a bond, with a good and sufficient surety, conditioned for the faithful observance of the provisions contained therein.

such keeper or proprietor, or any of his agents, runners, or employees, or of any attempt to persuade or entice any of the crew to desert from any vessel in the harbor of New York, by such keeper or proprietor, or any of his agents, runners, or employees, revoke the license for keeping such house.

§ 2077. Id.; fees for licenses and application thereof. Said board shall file on the second Monday of January of each year, in the office of the clerk of the city and county of New York, a statement showing the number of licenses issued, the names of persons to whom issued, with name and number of the street or house licensed during the year preceding, the amount of money received therefor, the amount and items of their disbursements, and the amount distributed by them as hereinbefore directed.

§ 2078. Id.; officers of board; power to make by-laws and regulations conferred.—The said board shall appoint a president and secretary and shall keep an office in the city of New York, and make such by-laws and regulations as may be needful for the orderly conduct of its business, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state.

§ 2079. Id.; board to furnish badges to licensed boarding-house keepers.—The said board shall furnish to each sailors' hotel or boarding-house keeper, licensed by them as aforesaid, one or more badges or shields, on which shall be printed or engraved the name of such hotel or boarding-house keeper, and the number and street of his hotel or boarding-house; and which said badges or shields shall be surrendered to said board upon the revocation by them or expiration of any license granted by them as herein provided.

§ 2080. Badges to be displayed.—Every sailors' hotel or boarding-house keeper, and every agent, runner, or employee of such hotel or boarding-house keepers, when boarding any vessel in the harbor of New York, or when inviting or soliciting the boarding or lodging of any seaman, sailor, or person employed on any vessel, shall wear conspicuously displayed the shield or badge referred to in the foregoing section.

§ 2081. Unlawful wearing of badges prohibited.—It shall not be lawful for any person, except those named in the preceding section, to have, wear, exhibit, or display any such shield or badge to any of the crew employed on any vessel with the intent to invite, ask, or solicit the boarding or lodging of any of the crew employed on any vessel being in the harbor of New York.

§ 2082. Penalties for violations of foregoing sections; commissioners of boarding-houses not to accept any gratuities, etc.—Whoever shall offend against any or either of the provisions contained in sections two thousand and sixty-nine to two thousand and seventy-three, inclusive, or two thousand and eighty or two thousand and eighty-one, of this act, and any commissioner appointed under this chapter, who shall directly or

§ 3. Trains equipped with air brakes.—That on and after the first day of January, nineteen hundred and one, it shall be unlawful for any railroad or other company to haul or permit to be hauled or used on its line or lines within this state any freight train that has not a sufficient number of cars in it so equipped with continuous power or air brakes that the engineer on the locomotive drawing such train can control its speed without requiring brakemen to use the common hand brake for that purpose. [As amended by L. 1900, ch. 549.]

§ 4. Statement of number of cars to be filed.—That within sixty days from the passage of this act every railroad or other company operating a line of railroad within the state shall file with the board of railroad commissioners at its office in Albany a verified statement of the total number of freight cars owned or operated by it, the number of such cars equipped with such continuous power or air brakes and the number unequipped, and shall thereafter annually and in the month of January, for the ensuing ten years, file with said board a verified report of the number of cars so equipped in each year and the number of cars, if any, remaining unequipped.

§ 2. Equipment of old cars.—That from and after the passage of this act, in addition to such new freight cars, there shall be equipped each year with such couplers, by every company operating a line or lines of railroad within the state, at least twenty per centum of all freight cars owned or operated by such companies, and used within the state, which are not now so equipped, except certain cars known and designated as "coal jimmies," and that on and after the first day of January, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, the use of said "coal jimmies" in any form shall be unlawful, within the state, except upon any railroad whose main line is less than fifteen miles in length and whose average grade exceeds two hundred feet to the mile, under penalty of one hundred dollars for each offense, said penalty to be recovered in an action to be brought by the attorney-general in the name of the people, and in the judicial district where the principal office of the company within the state is located. § 5. Penalty.—That on and after January first, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, any railroad or other company using, or permitting to be used, on its line or lines, any freight car not equipped with couplers as provided for in this act, shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars for each and every violation, to be recovered in an action to be brought by the attorney-general, in the name of the people, and in the judicial district wherein the principal office of the company within the state is located; and it shall be the duty of the board of railroad commissioners of the state to notify the attorney-general of all such violations coming to its notice.

§ 6. Extension of time for compliance with act.—That the board of railroad commissioners may, from time to time, after full hearing given and for good cause shown, exempt any company from the provisions of this act, as to the equipment of twenty per centum of its cars in any particular year or years, and may extend the time within which any company shall comply with the requirements of this act, not exceeding, however, five years from the first day of January, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight.
